Games co-ordinator appointed

Mr. Bernie March has been appointed co-ordinator of the Alberta Summer Games which will be hosted by St. Albert in 1979. The Games are scheduled for August 2 - 6 to fall in conjunction with Alberta Heritage Day weekend.

Mr. March has been granted a one year leave of absence from his position as recreation superintendent for the City of St. Albert in order that he may concentrate his energies on the Summer Games. He will report directly to the Alberta Summer Games Board of Directors in St. Albert which is responsible for staging the Games.

Mr. March has served with St. Albert's recreation department for the past four years. His management experience in physical education spans 13 years, including work with the Canadian Armed Forces and heading recreation departments in other communities. Mr. March also brings to the position prior experience as northern region manager for the Manitoba Games.

BERNIE MARCH

Mr. March is currently membership chairman for the Alberta Recreation Parks Association and is the Alberta, Yukon, NWT, Director for the Canadian Parks and Recreation Association.

Standard General Construction of St. Albert has donated office space in their building on Bellerose Drive where Mr. March has recently begun his task of organizing the myriad of responsibilities associated with staging the Alberta Summer Games. He may be reached at 458-8707.

Kinsmen across province working for games

Two thousand and seven hundred Kinsmen representing 74 clubs throughout the Province will be spearheading "grassroots" participation in the 1979 Alberta Summer Games to take place August 2 to 6, in St. Albert.

This announcement was made by Marv Woelfle, Kinsmen district governor, following a vote taken by representatives of District Four Kinsmen Clubs during their Annual Fall Council in Edmonton in mid-October. The decision to support the Games movement followed the Alberta Games Council's proposal to all Kinsmen Clubs to "Take Up The Challenge."

In "taking up the challenge," Kinsmen have be-

VOLUNTEERS TO ASSIST MOUNTIES

R C M P gets first auxiliary members

Alberta now has its first two auxiliary members in the R.C.M.P., and their enlistment as volunteer aids for the force was marked by a special ceremony last Friday in the office of K Division. The auxiliary constables will receive no pay for their work which will require them to serve one night a week on a regular shift. They will have official powers only when accompanied by a regular force member, or in case of a declared emergency.

St. Albert detachment will have the services of Ralph Single and the other auxiliary member will serve in Leduc. Mr. Single formerly had experience as an auxiliary member of the force at 100 Mile House in British Columbia.

According to Roy Farran, Alberta's solicitor general, this is just a start. He would like to see the volunteer auxiliary group reach upwards to 3,000 members, who would be stationed in every area where there is an RCMP detachment.

Given that encouragement but keeping in mind that Mr. Farran is not seeking re-election, the hope was expressed at the ceremony that the new Solicitor General would keep the program going.

Political prank

The great pumpkin visited St. Albert hallowe'en, and while here made an extremely rude political statement. Using a convoy of invisible witches and hobgoblins, the hallowe'en prankster transported a small building to the City Hall, where it was left, no building permit or development agreement submitted. Chances are city hall officials will be less than pleased at the gift of the little building, which is -- you guessed it -- an outhouse! The Gazette would like to clarify its position however. We learned of this on an anonymous tip Tuesday night and have no clue as to the culprits.

DOUBLE TREAT

Last Saturday, Grandin Mall hosted a hallowe'en costume contest with a lot of peculiar entrants. Maybe not so strange for this time of year this two headed man (?) was womaned by Darcy Redkopp and Diane Janusz. The pair finished second in the 9 to 12 year old class. Photo-Al Popil

We're striving for improvement

It took us a while, but the Gazette has finally made the switch to two sections. No longer will our M.D. area readers have to search for the Sturgeon section of the Gazette. The Sturgeon news will be contained in a new separate section, with its own front page. Our staff is busy trying to produce more news and pictures to make this section even more interesting and appealing. We are sure you will notice the improvements in the issues to follow.

This new Sturgeon section will be backed with our regular Sports Section, which is of interest to people of both St. Albert and Sturgeon. We have just hired a new sports editor, Martin O'Kell, who will be covering sports throughout St. Albert and Sturgeon, bringing you weekly detailed sports coverage.

The Front Section of the Gazette will remain primarily for coverage of the St. Albert area, detailing the top news stories of the week, club news, activities, events and other news of the city. Our specialty pages will be of interest to both town and country readers.

On pages 4 and 5, you will find our Editorial Pages, which, in addition to having the Letters to the Editor, Guest Editorials, and our own Editorials, often contain informative articles about business and the economy. We keep our eyes peeled for oddities printed in other publications and reproduce them on these pages. Quite often we include a cartoon we feel will be of particular interest to our readers.

Our Entertainment Pages have featured theatre reviews for some time now. They are written by our Entertainment Editor, Vicky Knight, and have received wide appreciation. Bob Coles writes a column on the Music Scene and Simon has his Audio and Sound Spectrum column. We are also planning some book reviews in the near future to keep you upto date on some of the many current releases. And for the younger readers we have Mara's Young Talent corner. Check it out. The kids can participate directly in this part of the paper, by sending in their drawings and other creative efforts.

The Gazette has also initiated a Seniors Page, called Prime Time For Living, which relates news of interest to Senior Citizens in St. Albert and the MD of Sturgeon. On The Home Front is a section primarily for the homemaker, where fashion, cooking, crafts and related articles appear.

The Classified Ads, where many of our readers have found a reliable marketplace, will be located at the back of the Front Section.

We are pleased to be able to offer our readers these improvements and future changes are in the works. Our next major change will be giving the Sports Section of the Gazette its own separate section, but this will have to be left for later. We are continually striving to make the Gazette better for you, and we appreciate the comments, suggestions and criticism you have given us in the past. Feel free to give us a call.

Drunk drivers on increase

The officers at the local detachment report a steady increase in numbers of drunk drivers on the road, and urge people not to drive after drinking. Drivers found to be impaired are arrested, charged and spend the night in jail. If convicted their licenses are suspended and their names are published. The RCMP officers have one terse suggestion for drivers who do not wish the embarrassment and inconvenience of this treatment under the law - KNOW YOUR LIMIT.

The traffic detail has encountered another frequent problem of late. During the early morning hours many drivers are trying to operate their cars with frosted windshields. An example of the danger of this practice was observed last week when a young school boy was just about struck down in Lacombe Park by a vehicle with a frosted windshield. The officers point out that two minutes taken to scrape windows could prevent a driver becoming responsible for an injury or death. Driving with dirty or frosted windshields is against the Highway Traffic Act and all violaters will be prosecuted.

Staff Sergeant Siemens reports that the St. Albert detachments has its first auxiliary police member. Ralph Single of St. Albert began voluntary work with the force yesterday. An ex-auxiliary member from British Columbia, Mr. Single brings a great deal of experience to the position, Staff/Sgt. Siemens added.

Gambling banned in Iran

Casinos and gambling have been banned in Iran following the Shah's instructions to Prime Minister Jaafar Sharif-Enami to "do his utmost to remove the grievances of the people." The conservative Islamic community in Iran has been rioting for reforms and a calendar planned by the Shah has also been taken out of production, as being offensive to many of the country's religious leaders.

come a model. This will be the first time that a service club wholeheartedly commits itself -- its member's time, skills and organizational abilities -- to a "grassroots" movement of this magnitude. The emphasis is on actively providing a service, rather than on fund raising campaigns. "The Kinsmen auxiliary organization, the Kinettes, will also be involved in the work," said Woelfle.

Kinsmen will use their best efforts to support and promote the Alberta Games for a one year period. An evaluative report will be presented to Kinsmen Fall Council in 1979 and a decision will be made on whether Kinsmen participation will continue or become modified.

The Games involve upards of 2500 competitors at the Provincial level with thousands competing in playoffs leading up to this Provincial sports and cultural spectacular. The Games are organized by the Alberta Games Council, a non-profit Crown Corporation, which has in place a loosely knit structure of volunteers, provincial sport bodies, community and provincial recreation professionals. As an active, well-structured organization, Kinsmen will work together with these groups to reach a maximum number of Alberta communities. Kinsmen's past support of recreational projects and facilities made them an obvious choice to positively complement the Games movement.

Kinsmen will now begin to get as many people as possible involved, the young and old, handicapped and family units.

"We can assist in the promotion of better fitness and at the same time develop individual and community pride," said Woelfle. "As Kinsmen, we feel that support of the 1979 Alberta Summer Games to be held in St. Albert is a worthwhile contribution to the community of any participating club!"

Well known resident dies suddenly at 54 years

Death came swiftly and unexpectedly to Erwin Andrew (Dave) Davis of Gladstone Crescent on Monday morning in the Royal Alexandra Hospital, when he suffered a massive heart attack about 7 a.m. He was 54 years old.

After a session with the 'flu he had gone into hospital the preceding Monday for some tests. Doctors determined that Mr. Davis had experienced some heart difficulty, possibly connected with the 'flu. However he seemed well recovered by Sunday and was planning to come home on the Monday.

Many, many people in St. Albert and Edmonton were shocked and saddened at the passing of Mr. Davis, who was well known and greatly liked in the community where he had made his home for 16 years.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Len Musto today, November 1, 1978, at the Chapel of Chimes, with members of the St. Albert Branch of The Royal Canadian Legion forming an Honour Guard. Serving as pallbearers were Ray Gibbon, Harold Lewis and Don Webb of St. Albert, and Jack Reid, Ted Blasius and Hunter Robson of Edmonton.

Attending the services were Mrs. Davis's sisters, Muriel Wilson of Regina, Saskatchewan, and Betty Fredericks of Vancouver, and her nephew, Laird Wilson and niece, Louise Fredericks.

Interment followed in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Following the services attended by an overflow crowd, a luncheon was held at the Legion Hall in St. Albert.

Dave Davis served a term of office with the St. Albert Protestant School Board, being elected on October 15, 1970, where he was respected for his contribution to sound financial management of Board affairs.

He enjoyed a great variety of community activities, and he and his wife attended many dances and functions in support of community and civic endeavours, including district fairs and celebrations of all kinds. He was also a gracious host and loved to entertain in his home.

For years Mr. Davis devoted considerable time and energy to the work of parents organizations to help fill the needs of severely retarded children and make their lives as comfortable as possible, a work in which he was fully supported by Mrs. Davis. He was the first president of the Parents Group Association with the Red Deer School Hospital, and later formed a parents group for the Eric Cormack Centre in Edmonton, serving as first president.

He was also fond of young people and took great interest in their progress, offering his help whenever he could. In return he enjoyed the affection and respect to the many children and young men and women who came in contact with him.

It could be fairly said that Dave Davis didn't have an enemy in this world.

DAVE DAVIS

Born in Edson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, he took his early education there, later moving with his family to Vermilion, where he completed high school and entered the Royal Canadian Navy. Following the war he settled in Edmonton and began his career with the Department of National Revenue, where he was employed at the time of his passing.

He married Marj Burns in Edmonton in 1948 and the couple moved to St. Albert in 1962.

Mr. Davis is survived by his loving wife Marj; one daughter, Linda; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis of Edmonton, one brother, Verne, Edmonton, and two nephews, Darrell and Brian Davis.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Eric Cormack Centre, 9835 - 112 Street, Edmonton.

LIFESAVERS

V.J. Maloney Junior High recognized two resident lifesavers yesterday at a special ceremony. The boys Dean Cyr (left) and Don Desrochers are flanked by school Principal John Kaminsky and St. Albert Fire Chief George Todd. Dean and Don brought the three residents of 6A Burnham Avenue to safety when their residence caught fire Friday morning.

Girl's body found

The body of 16-year-old Valerie Callingbull was found in a ditch at the side of a road about one and one-half miles southwest of St. Albert on Saturday, October 27 at 3 p.m. Formerly of Enoch reserve, Miss Callingbull had made her home in Edmonton for the past year.

Investigations are being conducted by the Edmonton RCMP "along the lines that foul play was involved" said Staff/Sgt. Murray Thompson of Edmonton Homicide.

Cause of death has not been determined, awaiting laboratory tests, but there is some indication of sexual abuse.

The police are interested in learning of Miss Callingbull's movements particularly during the two weeks preceding her death, or during October, and are asking any people who might have information of this nature to contact the RCMP General Investigation Section in Edmonton. Telephone 479-9500.

Time and Sir Sandford Fleming

Reprinted from the Royal Bank Monthly Letter

LAST OF A TWO PART SERIES

He was one of the most remarkable figures in the history of a remarkable nation. Yet we tend to forget all he did, perhaps because the benefits of his work are so commonplace today. Here, an appreciation of the legacy of Sir Sandford Fleming, Renaissance Man and Canadian.

AROUND THE WORLD AND BACK AGAIN VIA FLEMING'S CABLE

Having welded Canada together by rail, Fleming decided to weld the Empire together with cables. The massive missing link in the imperial communications system lay between Canada and Australia. In 1879 he wrote his first letter to propose a Pacific cable. After a campaign which, for tenacity and dipping into his own ample pocket, put even his promotion of standard time to shame, he at last saw the cable go into service on October 31, 1902. The Prime Minister of New Zealand sent a wire to congratulate him. To mark the occasion Fleming sent westbound and eastbound messages around the world and back again.

Even in an age that regarded work as holy, Fleming's work-addiction was spectacular. As a boy in Scotland, he had copied the following from Benjamin Franklin's Poor Richard's Almanack: "But dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of. How much more than is necessary do we spend in sleep, forgetting that the sleeping fox catches no poultry, and that there will be sleeping enough in the grave. Sloth maketh all things difficult, but industry all easy." Fleming spent his whole life, all 88 years of it, refusing to squander time.

It was a tribute not only to his reputation as an engineer but also to his lust for work, and more work, that at one time he held down no fewer than three of the biggest railway jobs in the country. He was chief engineer for the Intercolonial Railway, under construction between Halifax and Quebec; chief engineer for the CPR, for which he was to survey the route to the Pacific; and chief engineer of the survey for what would one day be the Newfoundland Railway. "No man without his extraordinary mental and physical vigour could have borne the tremendous strain," his friend and biographer, L.J. Burpee, wrote. "The task was Herculean." Fleming was the quint-essential hard-working Scot in the New World.

But if Fleming was a Scot he was also a super-Canadian. It is a cliche of our history that the challenge of conquering distance to achieve unity has forced Canadians to master solutions to problems of communication and transportation. Fleming's passions included railways, telegraph systems, steamships, ocean navigation, postal communication and cables to girdle the globe.

A LINK BETWEEN THE BOARDROOMS AND THE WILDERNESS ALL ABOUT

He was also that peculiarly Canadian type, a gentleman of the wilderness. He was a scholar, a scientist, an unswerving churchman, a man of public affairs. Yet he was as hard as an axe-blade, second only to the Indian at scratching a living out of the wilds. He hob-nobbed with princes and trappers, governors and Metis, prime ministers and Indians, lords and frontier horse traders. The Renaissance Man of the Wilderness was the link between hinderland and the boardrooms, bureaucracies and universities. Fleming flourished in both worlds.

He crossed Canada by foot, snow-shoe, dog team, canoe, wagon, raft and dug-out. But he cruised Venice in a gondola and went up in a balloon in Paris as well. He once drove a sleigh from Shediac, N.B., to Rimouski, Que., a journey of more than 300 miles in five days of ferocious winter weather. He also visited five continents by steamship and revelled in that supreme luxury, a private railway car.

Out on the prairie, he met a Sioux chief with a bear-claw necklace, skunk's fur at his ankles and hawk's feathers in his hair; in Paris, he met the Prince of Wales and joined him in the royal box at an opera. On the trail of a future railroad, he pulled a wolfskin over his head and joined a gang of dancing Indians. In London, he ran into Sir John A. MacDonald. The two and their wives spent a couple of days together, shopping and sightseeing in high style along the banks of the Thames.

"WHAT MADE THEM ELECT A MAN WHO HAS NEVER BEEN TO COLLEGE?"

He spent the night of his 24th birthday sleeping on the banks of Lake Huron in three feet of snow and a wind that pushed the temperature down to -14F. He spent other birthday nights on feather mattresses in the four-posters of the most sumptuous hotels in Europe. Once, with an umbrella, he routed a large bear that blocked his path in a desolate part of Ontario. There were times when he ate bear, moose lips, snipe, loon, yellowlegs and, of course, roast buffalo. He could happily eat lunch under an upturned canoe during a rainstorm, or at the best Parisian restaurants.

Sometimes his wilderness world and his society world converged. In 1864, for instance, the Governor of New Brunswick insisted he come to dinner. Fleming had no choice but to arrive in the clothes he had been wearing for weeks on end in the deep forest: a red flannel shirt, homespun trousers, rough boots. "You can imagine the sensation I made when I entered the drawing room at Government House, filled with ladies in wonderful toilets and officers in full dress uniform," he wrote. "However, I was given a charming companion to take in to dinner, and enjoyed myself immensely."

He knew the Premier of Australia, the Queen of Hawaii, and, according to Sir Andrew MacPhail, "every personage of note in the Empire." He got to know at least some of these personages in the wilderness. In July, 1880, for instance, he went salmon-fishing on the Matapedia River in Quebec,. In only five days there, he dined separately with George Stephen (the future Lord Mount Stephan), Donald A. Smith ("last-spike" Smith, the future Lord Strathcona), Lord Elphinstone, and the Duke of Beaufort. He also found time to share "a splendid bonfire" with his old friend George M. Grant, the principal of Queen's University, and Princess Louise and Prince Leopold. They were both children of Queen Victoria, and Louise was the wife of Lord Lorne, Governor General of Canada. At the end of this gruelling backwoods social schedule, Fleming reported that his son had caught a 25-pound salmon, and that "I lost one in gaffing - almost hooked another - finally landed two - very tired." He was only 53. He could not slow down.

That was the year he became chancellor of Queen's University and happily confided to his diary, "This is the strangest thing of my life. What made them elect a man to the highest position, who has never been in his life to college?" He had first seen Queen's only a few days after his arrival in Canada in 1845. The 35 years since then had given him a lot to be thankful for. He had a loving wife, a place called "The Lodge" on the Northwest Arm in Halifax, a family mansion called "Winterholme" in Ottawa, a tract of salmon-fishing territory in northern New Brunswick, the right to travel free on some of the world's best trains, independent wealth, general respect and, in the university appointment, prestige.

Not long before he died on July 22, 1915, Fleming reflected on "my great good fortune to have my lot cast in this goodly land." He added, "I have often thought how grateful I am for my birth into this marvellous world." Others, too, might occasionally consider being grateful for his birth into this land and this world. A good place to consider Sandford Fleming is aboard a train on the CN main line as it chugs up to Montreal from the Atlantic Ocean, or the CP line as it arrows across the Prairies, zooms into the mountains and rampages down to the western sea. A good time to pay him a silent tribute is the moment you cross from one time zone to another, anywhere the world over, and adjust your watch.

Hideout Column

By Sharon Beale

The dance held on Friday night, didn't have as good a turnout as we'd hoped, however, all those who did show up had a pretty good time. Everything ran pretty smoothly and thanks go out to the Legion for putting up with all the noise and confusion and also to all of our elderly teenaiders (just joking).

This Sunday, November 5, from 1 - 5 p.m., there will be a coffee house down at the Teen Centre. Anyone who wants to drop down and listen to some blue grass is more than welcome. There is no admission fee. The coffee house will be run by several Grant MacEwan students.

Also, November 10 from 8 - midnight, the Hideout will be holding another disco with Mrs. De Champlain. Prices are as usual. (The Hideout is the only place unaffected by inflation, you lucky people). It's gonna be a good time, so come on down! The Teen Centre will be closed November 11 due to Remembrance Day.

Right now, the Teen Centre is severely lacking in teenaiders. For anyone unacquainted with the term "teenaider," it refers to any person over the age of 21 who voluntarily spends one Friday or Saturday night a month or every second month down in the Teen Centre assisting the executive. Without the generosity of these people, the Hideout cannot continue to function. So please, teens, talk to your parents, your older brothers and sisters and get them involved. And parents, its your teens who use this place, come on, we need your help. If you would like to volunteer your services, phone Mr. Jim Kelly at 458-1155.

GOOD NEWS FOR RUSH HOUR DRIVERS

Tuesday was a big day for residents forced to use Hebert Road on their way to work in Edmontn at 'prime time'. The City is finished road widening and is only awaiting the arrival of new signs designating two left turning lanes south onto the Trail from Hebert. The median will be extended to Sunset Boulevard within a year with no access to Sturgeon Shopper's Plaza for eastbound motorists. Negotiations are presently on-going with Joe Sheckter, owner of the property adjacent to Hebert on the south side, to acquire land for road widening. Until these are complete the bottleneck for eastbound traffic will remain and the afternoon traffic jams will continue until the median is completed to Sunset.

CHAUTAUQUA RE-VISITED

From 1917 to 1935, the Chautauqua was a familiar sight in Western Canada, as it visited towns and villages, bringing education and entertainment to the people. Its large brown tent, parades with decorated bicycles, and varied programs of lectures and music, were eagerly sought by our pioneers.

The Glenbow Museum is publishing the history of the Chautauqua but it needs old photographs to illustrate it. If any readers have old snapshots, programs or other items, we would like to borrow these to make copies. Full credit will be given to the owner and the original snapshot promptly returned.

If you can help us, please write to the Archives, Glenbow Museum, 9th Avenue and 1st Street, Calgary, T2G 0P3.

The show contains a wide range of pictures, many of which may or may not be considered as art. Many different styles, media, and techniques are represented as well as different levels of quality. The accompanying catalogue, titled The Picture Book discusses many of the questions commonly asked about pictures, such as: is abstract painting a put-on? How can you tell a good picture from a poor one? Etc. The catalogue is available to the public at the Gallery Shop at .75¢.

Edmonton artist has one man show

The first one-artist exhibition of Doris Zaharichuk, an Edmonton folk artist, will officially open at The Edmonton Art Gallery on Saturday, December 9 at 3:30 p.m. The exhibition will remain on view at the Gallery until December 31.

Mrs. Zaharichuk draws her subject matters from her memories of rural Alberta and her Ukrainian heritage. Although she has only been seriously painting for a short while, her work is already represented in the collection of the Alberta Art Foundation from which a number of the works in this exhibition have been borrowed.

New city landmark established

On Sunday, October 22, a former Royal Canadian Air Force, T33 Silver Star jet plane was raised onto a pedestal in front of the St. Albert Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion by the Lions Club.

This act was the culmination of a year's co-operative work spearheaded by the St. Albert Lions Club, Lion Jack Garrett, chairman of the T33 committee explained that this project is a good example of community service and co-operation.

The jet, which will make an interesting attraction to our city, is dedicated to the St. Albert Air Cadet Squadron. The plane was donated by Northwest Industries. Master Excavators provided a vehicle, at no cost, to move the plane to St. Albert and employee Alan Mayer volunteered to drive.

The plane was moved into storage at the City maintenance yard last fall. City crews have been very supportive of the project and have assisted the Lions on numerous occasions.

After many weeks of clean-up, repair, and assembly, the plane was ready to be welded together and moved to its new home in front of the Legion. In the meantime, the Legion and the City had worked together to put in a proper support base, complete with electrical wiring and a protective curb.

Harsim Construction provide a crane and operator at no cost to the Lions to raise the plane into position. Meanwhile, city welder George Lealand, had volunteered his time and equipment to ready the aircraft for display.

MINI-CONVOY MAKES MOVE

Final arrangements were made with the RCMP and last Sunday a mini-convoy moved the plane from the City yard to the Legion site where it was raised onto a pedestal and bolted into place.

The plane itself is a T33 Mark 3 Silver Star and was in service with the RCAF from 1954 to 1959. It was used as a training aircraft at RCAF Station Gimli, Manitoba. The aircraft registration number 21271 appropriately enough matches that of the St. Albert Legion Branch #271.

This project is another example of Lions in action in their community. Lion Jack Garrett wanted to thank the members of his committee, Bill Nielson and Don Ward for their support and members of the Legion, in particular Vern Tompkins and Ron Bull. None of this would have been possible without the good work of Bob Parks and Floyd Maybee of Northwest Industries.

Final cleanup and painting will take place next spring when the weather improves.

The aircraft will be dedicated by Lion President Earl Ayre at a ceremony on Remembrance Day, November, 11th, following the parade back from the Cenotaph. At that time the plane will be officially dedicated and Lion Earl will turn over the flight logs to Legion President Bull.

Women's Institute celebrates 32nd birthday

A number of husbands and friends gathered on October 24 in the V.J. Maloney lunchroom to help the Women's Institute celebrate their 32nd birthday. The celebration took the form of a potluck supper arranged by Marg Iseke and her group. Members brought various dishes that were representative of each of the Commonwealth countries. Some of the members of the executive wore costumes of the various countries.

Each person present introduced themselves. Doris Sumner, Marguarite Akins, Millie Herron and Marie Rouault were some of the charter members present.

During the meal President Lorraine Moore read a poem entitled "What is a Wife?" for the benefit of the husbands present. Ed Savoie expressed the appreciation of the men present for the supper and suggested another one for the following night.

A list of various prices were given for the medical equipment, that the club is buying to be made available for loan at the Sturgeon Health Unit. It was decided to leave this up to the discretion of the committee.

Marg Iseke agreed to be the club's representative at the November 5 meeting of the Inter-club council.

The November 28 meeting will take the form of a Christmas decoration workshop. Sadie Adams and Laura Savoie, handicraft convenors, would like to hear from members who have suggestions as to what they would like to do at the meeting.

Following the business session the "Groovy Grannies", a senior citizens choir directed by Bertha Kennedy, entertained with several musical numbers. The group enjoyed having them.

After the concert the Groovy Grannies joined the W.I. for coffee and birthday cake, which had been decorated with the flags of the Commonwealth nations.

Time to rethink

On October 22 the Auditor-General announced that $142 million in Unemployment Insurance funds had been paid out to persons who did not qualify, adding that this was in addition to the $67.8 million previously discovered by the government to have been paid in fraudulent claims.

On October 27, the Economic Council of Canada reported that Social Service programs at all levels of government have done little to redistribute wealth. Instead these programs have ended up helping the higher income middle class section, and, reports the council, at a fantastic cost!

Friends of Ernie Jamison M.L.A.

We believe our Constituency needs to return M.L.A. Ernie Jamison to represent us again in the Provincial Government.

His experience - his capacity for hard work - and his exceptional ability and willingness to help ordinary people with their problems are needed.

So is his strong voice for the interests of small business - and for sound management of government programs, in an uncertain economic climate.

Ernie is working hard, and we are working hard to ensure his nomination on November 16. Two former members of St. Albert council are also seeking the nomination.

To vote on November 16 in Morinville, you will require a 1978 membership in the Conservative party.

Ernie would like to hear from you - and to talk over any particular concerns you may have. Please feel free to telephone 429-4631 (government office) during the day or 459-3852 (home) evenings or weekends. He will return your call if you don't reach him.

Help us return an excellent M.L.A. to our government.

Library Board has eyes on lottery

At the regular monthly meeting of the St. Albert Library Board there was discussion on how to increase the revenue of the library. It was mentioned that in Ontario the profits from that province's lottery were distributed between cultural and athletic organizations. For libraries this means grants to assist in acquiring Canadian material, French language books and films, materials and equipment for handicapped readers as well as the equipment to house the material. It was decided to write to the Alberta Library Trustee's Association to ask that Association to investigate with the government the possibility of increasing payment to cultural and athletic groups from the proceeds of the provincial lottery.

At the September meeting Mr. J. Forsyth, director of Library Services had mentioned the necessity for Boards to advise Alberta Culture if increased grants are needed. Mayor Harvey immediately wrote to Mr. Forsyth requesting the Government consider increasing grants payable to libraries. The Board then considered what should be done next. It was decided to send a formal motion to the Honourable Horst Schmidt requesting the Government to increase its grant support to libraries. Copies are to be sent to the Alberta Library Trustee Association for further support.

Discussion took place on library hours for Remembrance Day. A decision was made to close the library on Saturday, November 11, and open it on Monday, November 13. The librarian would arrange for those employees who are entitled to a day off in lieu to take the time off at another date.

Copies of the conclusions of the Ad Hoc Committee's Report on Cultural Facilities were passed out. The Board was pleased to see a new library was considered to be a number one priority. Mrs. Shields, chairman of the Board, said she had participated in the "Mini" survey. Many of the people she approached, not knowing she was on the Board, spontaneously spoke of the need for a new library. The mayor added the city will be contacting the Government to see what grants are available for cultural facilities.

Youville Bazaar enjoys success

The Youville Auxiliary's tea and bazaar held at the Home on Sunday afternoon, October 30, was a very successful event, even the weatherman co-operated with a bright sunny day.

This year, the members voted for a few changes. Thus the tables for knitted goods were arranged in the recreation room on the main floor where everything could be displayed to better advantage. This proved to be a very good move as it provided more space in the auditorium, where it was much easier to browse at leisure. Sales were brisk there, too, and the well-stocked tables were gradually thinned down.

The tea-room was also well patronized with people coming and going all afternoon. This kept the ladies there very busy also.

Mr. Dubuc, who can always be counted on to help, arrived with his easel and set up shop in a quiet corner of the north lounge where he made charcoal portraits of a number of customers. This kind gentleman had other commitments for this particular Sunday but opted to give his time to the Auxiliary. Our sincerest thanks, Mr. Dubuc!

RAFFLE WINNERS

And now for the raffles! Kay Krupa, the Auxiliary president, drew three tickets from the huge drum with the following results:

First prize, the beautiful crocheted afghan was won by Joe Moore of Edmonton; second prize, the $50 Money Doll, went to Mrs. Eugenie Maynard also of Edmonton; Third prize, the Christmas Ceramic Plaque was claimed by Aline Jean of Edmonton.

A lovely doll, raffled from the toy table made Ed Savoie a happy winner. The box of chocolates and the rose bowl, filled with toffee, was won by Frances Morton of St. Albert. Heartiest congratulations to all these lucky winners!

The Youville Auxiliary are indeed fortunate to have the support and the help of so many. It would be almost impossible to mention each one individually. To everyone who donated articles for the bazaar, to all who worked so diligently to make this event such a success, we offer our heartfelt thanks. We assure you the proceeds realized will be put to the best possible use ... and that will be to provide extra comforts for the residents of the Home.

Local woman receives Achievement Award

SUSAN BELL

Miss Susan Bell of St. Albert will receive a Provincial Achievement Award from Premier Lougheed this Saturday at the Four Seasons Hotel in Edmonton. Twenty-one year old Miss Bell earned the award for her part on a relay team which won the National Championship which was held in Montreal. She has lived in St. Albert for the past eight years and is currently attending University enrolled in the Department of Education, majoring in physical education.

Alberta was one of the first provinces to establish awards of this type some 10 years ago. Over 200 people will receive these awards this year, which is a few more than normal.

Albertans qualify for these awards in three separate categories. The first of these is by winning a national or international competition for certain performance. This can be in athletics or in the field of arts.

The second category is for service and is usually given to outstanding volunteers who have served their communities with a special service for an extended period of time.

The third selection is made in the world of the professional, where an award is presented to a person who has demonstrated professional excellence on a national or international level.

Rudolf, the Pocket Size Bear, meets Gretel

"I just don't believe it, gasped Rudolf as the car was pulling into the ranch. There, standing, gazing up at the window, was the biggest dog he had ever seen for real. Her back was broad as a pony, her head quite huge, and her eyes carried all the cares in the world. Rudolf was not afraid.

A delivery man drove up, and the lady lumbered quickly over, letting forth several deep warning 'barks,' with a "what do yo want? tone. Rudolf chuckled as the man pulled back his legs into the van, and sat tight, peering over his steering wheel. A young woman ran out calling "Come here Gretel," and putting an arm around the dog's big loose-skinned neck, guided her away from the van. The man crept out, and glancing over a shoulder, fairly scampered across to the house to deliver his parcel.

Gretel, having done her guard duty, turned her attention from the delivery man and lay down heavily on the grass to enjoy the sunshine. Rudolf could not hide his admiration, and trotted over to gently feel the dog's comforting rich, brown and white coat. She was a mountian of warmth to Rudolf and he was transported to the snowy Swiss Alps where a lone traveller was lost and exhausted and needed help. He had a long way to struggle past Gretel's large heaving tummy, and her floppy jowl before arriving at the great ear flap, in order to call her to the rescue.

One eye opened slightly, then closed again. The big chest heaved rhythmically and the jowl rippled. "Some people have no imagination," muttered Rudolf, and he ambled away.

The EDUCATION Gazette

Social Studies course revised

Education Minister Julian Koziak has announced that effective January 19, 1979, a revised social studies program for all grades will be available for optional use in Alberta schools.

Mr. Koziak stressed that the revised program, an interpretation of the 1971 social studies curriculum, is interim in nature. It will be assessed throughout a three year implementation period to determine the degree to which it meets the legislature's recently adopted statement of the goals of basic education for Alberta. Particular attention will be paid to Canadian history and geography. Finalized programming in those areas is expected by 1982.

Main features of the revised program are:

- an increase in Canadian content to about 50 percent, up from 25 percent under the previous program. Grades 1 to 10 will study specific topics about Canada. Grades 11 and 12 will learn about Canada's role in international affairs;
- an emphasis on history, geography, government and culture;
- an emphasis on basic knowledge and analytical skills;
- the development of detailed course descriptions for teachers;
- the identification of three to 10 primary resources for each grade. This material will be available to schools from the School Book Branch at a discount of 40 percent.

Teacher's guides for the revised program will be available early in 1979. Sufficient content has been retained from the previous program to ensure continued use of resources presently in schools.

Also designed for use with the revised program is the following material being prepared under the Alberta Heritage Learning Resources project:

- 12 books about Alberta's history, geography and natural environment in the Canadian setting for Grades 4, 5 and 6;
- a Junior Atlas of Alberta for Grades 4, 5 and 6;
- 16 multi-media Canadian content social studies kits for all grades;
- a relief model of Alberta for all grades.

Alberta Heritage Learning Resources material will be provided free of charge to Alberta schools in 1979.

Seminar examines needs of Handicapped

Four members of the St. Albert Association for the Handicapped, (Eyla Rogers, Virginia Anderson, Kathleen Hickey and Hazel Hammond), recently attended the Fall Training Seminar, held in Medicine Hat and was sponsored by the Alberta Association for the Mentally Retarded. The theme of the conference was Planning for Progress.

This workshop provided an opportunity for participants to increase their skills and abilities in organizational planning. The guest speaker on Saturday evening October 28 was Mrs. Ann Adams, an instructor of Transitional Training, Lethbridge Community College and Chairperson of Lethbridge Citizen Advocacy Committee.

The conference ended with a session dealing with recreation and leisure time involvement and the changing needs of handicapped individuals regarding recreation and play. Recreation is defined as voluntary participation in activity that results in increased competence, understanding and appreciation by the individual himself and others. Lecturing on this subject were Beth Velde, Alberta Advisory Board on Recreation for the Disabled; Dave Arsenault, consultant, Recreation, Parks and Wildlife, Recreation Services to Special Groups Section.

National Music School to be Banff?

The Canada Council has released a report which recommends that the Banff Centre for Continuing Education and its School of Fine Arts be recognized as the National School of Music for Canada.

The recommendation is contained in a report prepared by Professor Helmut Blume on musical training in Canada, with particular reference to orchestral training needs.

Professor Blume is former dean of the Faculty of Music at McGill University, and a distinguished Canadian musician. His study was commissioned by the Canada Council and has been in preparation for over two years.

Horst A. Schmid, minister of Alberta Culture, welcomed the news regarding the Blume report and said it "was an expression of confidence in the standards and achievements of the Banff Centre." He was speaking on behalf of Dr. A. E. Hohol, minister of Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, who is attending an international conference on education.

This recommendation comes at a time when the Banff Centre itself has presented plans to the Alberta Government that would involve its expansion to yer-round training in the performing arts, including music. These plans are currently being reviewed.

Mr. Grant Carlyle, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Banff Centre, said that this recommendation of the Blume report appears acompletely consistent with the school's future plans.

"We are pleased that after an intensive study of the Canadian music scene, Professor Blume has seen us as the logical focal point for professional training in music," said Mr. Carlyle. "His recommendation will undoubtedly add considerable weight to the Centre's plans and reflects the school's growing reputation as an arts training centre of national and international standard."

"We understand from the Canada Council that the report contains other recommendations that may have some bearing on future programming decisions, although we have not received our copies," Mr. Schmid stated. "Our respective departments will study the report in detail when it is received."

Northern Light

Essence of Piaf is captured

By Vicky Knight

Her voice was once described as "a voice that seems to be washed in all the water flowing down the gutter." It was a voice that was born in the streets and alleys of Paris, and remained richly coloured by its origins. The voice itself is inimitable; the spirit that drives it is not. Kathy McGlynn has proved that in the Northern Light production of Piaf, in which she gives a charismatic performance. Piaf's disturbing presence is felt once more.

Ms. McGlynn, of course, is not Edith Piaf. She is pink-cheeked and healthy, where Piaf was peaked and skinny to the point of emaciation. She is taller than Piaf, whose stature suited her nickname La Mome Piaf, literally, Kid Sparrow. However, when McGlynn stands in the spotlight for La Vie en Rose, feet planted firmly on the floor like a schoolgirl, any minor differences are forgotten. McGlynn sings with a strange mixture of abandon and authority, as did Piaf. She has a vulnerable way of holding herself as she stands that also reflects the paradox of Piaf: a woman of tenacious strength who was at the same time very vulnerable.

"Bravo Pour Le Clowne," my favourite, is a real test of McGlynn's talents and grasp of her character. Written by French newspaper man Henry Contet, it is an angry song, which rails against the bitter despair encountered in life. Contet, one of Piaf's many lovers, wrote the song for her, which is obvious in the line "I've got laughs that bleed." No other singer in France at that time was up to such a lyric, which would be at home now in a Rolling Stones number. McGlynn sneers, howls and growls the words, showing magnificent contempt for life's dirty tricks.

Two of the selections in this compilation of Piaf's life and works are quite courageous -- L'Accordeoniste and Les Trois Cloches. The first was dropped from Piaf's repertoire towards the end of her career as she found the range too much for her abused vocal chords. McGlynn seemed to have no such problem and gives a searing rendition of the bleak lyrics. Les Trois Cloches poses a challenge in that it was scored originally for an orchestra with grand organs. McGlynn still brings it off, with simple accompaniment. I found this the weakest of the songs, however.

LOVE UNDERPLAYED

Although McGlynn dominates the play as Piaf, she is not alone on stage. Mel Ericksen and Hank Stinson played the men in her life, but I found this aspect of the play disappointing. There was nearly always a man at the eye of Piaf's emotional storms, and her work fed on the feelings generated by these tempestuous relationships. Because of this, I expected a little more fire to be sensed between Piaf and her lovers. I would also have been more satisfied if the two actors had contrasted each other in appearance, rather than being of similar colouring, and build. Piaf's lovers were definitely individuals and shouldn't be depicted as a homogeneous procession. Granted the play is about Piaf, not her lovers, but each had a vital effect on her at the time of the relationship. This was not readily apparent.

Allan Stichbury's set artfully extends off the stage into the rest of the theatre. The set proper is suitably dingy, but manages to wear that air of obstinate elan that can be found even in grungy parts of Paris. The opulent grand piano struck a jarring note in the midst of squalor, however, when an old upright would have been more appropriate. Members of the audience sit at small tables on stage, which contributes to the cafe intimacy.

Stichbury and Monica Boyd were scrupulously true to the original in the costuming of McGlynn. Even the purple scarf given to Piaf by Maurice Chevalier's wife Yvonne on the occasion of her Gerny's debut was faithfully rendered. Mme. Chevalier produced the scarf at the last minute to cover the singer's thin, bare shoulders, which weren't covered by the dress Piaf had knit herself for the occasion. The dress turned out to have only one sleeve, hence the scarf.

Having been too young to have experienced Piaf at the peak of her career, I formerly had only a vague understanding of her appeal. Old recordings cannot begin to do justice to such a magnetic performer. However, this production provides a lot of insight into the Piaf phenomenon, and the power of her art.

PRISTINE POTTERY

The elegant simply detailed pieces shown here are the work of Lois Folkins, above and her husband Doug. The Folkins are life members of the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild and have been working with pottery for 10 to 12 years. They obtain the rich textured colours through reduction firing in a gas kiln. The Folkins' work was showcased last week in an exhibition and sale at the St. Albert Arts and Craft Guild Gallery.

Theatre 3 play challenge to designer

Designer David Lovett was challenged to create three sets on the Theatre 3 stage in response to the demands of the first play of the season, Michael Cristofer's The Shadow Box.

Three life stories unfold simultaneously on the triple set, in a drama of haunting eloquence and harrowing wit that will change the way you think and feel about life's inevitable conclusion.

"This is contemporary theatre at its best," says director Keith Digby; "a highly skilled playwright treating an important social theme in a compassionate and witty manner."

The Shadow Box will showcase some of Edmonton's finest veteran talent, including Patricia Bell who has appeared in Endgame, Romeo and Juliet, and Equus at the Citadel; Richard Gishler, who is returning to Theatre 3 where he previously appeared in La Ronde and The Collected Works of Billy the Kid; Joan Hurley, who is opening her third consecutive season for Theatre 3; Linda Rabinovitch, familiar to Theatre 3 audiences from her roles in The Hostage and The Glass Menagerie; Barbara Reese, whose recent credits include Bethune at the Citadel and Butterflies Are Free at Magnus Theatre Northwest; Joe Vassos, who played the lead in the Citadel production Of Mice and Men; and Stephen Walsh, a Theatre 3 regular who last season played diverse roles in Godspell, Canadian Gothic/American Modern, and The Guardsman.

Returning to Edmonton and to Theatre 3 where he closed out last season playing the title role in The Guardsman is Jim McQueen, talented Vancouver actor who in the interim has performed the role of Adelard in Heloise and Abelard at Stratford. The cast is completed by Murray McCune, a recent graduate of St. Joseph's Composite High School who has had professional roles at the Citadel and Northern Light Theatre.

The Shadow Box opens October 31 and runs through November 12 at Theatre 3.

Music . . . as I hear it!

By Razbo

Yesterday the Hotbox... tomorrow the world!

Last Friday, the CBC studio in Edmonton became a small coffee house for a couple of hours. Local musicians and an assortment of media people gathered around circular tables and listened to some HOT, "LIVE" JAZZ. The Tommy Banks Band with Big Miller, Live at Montreaux! They were acclaimed as the best big band at the festival. You might have caught them at the Hot Box last summer.

The recording was made during the last of three concerts the group played at Montreaux this summer. The band took the stage at 1 a.m. and played non-stop until 3 a.m. From what I heard of it at CBC, they certainly deserve the plaudits they received, plus a hearty round of applause to Richard Craig and Mark Goldham who made the recording. This record is the best "live" recording I have heard, look for it in your favorite record shop.

TOMMY BANKS

Canadian writers and arrangers were well represented by the group. Composers Curt Watts (now living in Toronto), Oliver Gannon (the superb Vancouver guitarist), Bobby Hales (well-known Vancouver big band leader), Bob Meyers (Edmonton's multi-talented composer and arranger), and Gordon Nicholson (from Grant MacEwan College) were some of the writers featured, and of course arrangements by Tommy Banks were also featured.

The entire venture would not have been possible, if it were not for the financial assistance received from Alberta Culture and the Department of External Affairs.

BIG MILLER

A number of extras came to members of the band because of their appearance at Montreaux. The entire band has been invited back to Montreaux, plus other festivals in Holland and France. They opened the door for more Canadian participation at future festivals. Big Miller will be travelling to Switzerland and France next Spring to perform with the Jay McShaun Quartet. The album should spark even more fame for Edmonton's 20 new jazz ambassadors.

MANEGE ... MA NEIGE ... MANEIGE?

An interesting group from Quebec will be appearing at SUB Theatre at 8:30 p.m. on November 3 and 4 known as Maneige. The six musicians have been playing together for the past four years, and appear to be very versatile group with some very fresh ideas. Their music is more in the Jazz Fusion line, and to quote the release I received, "Their music has become a collage of sounds, impressions and moods, all done in a jazzy fashion. Yet the band does not sacrifice melody, rhythm or taste in their quest for a novel sound." If you like modern jazz, you will most certainly enjoy Maneige.

Danny Grossman Dancers to lecture

Danny Grossman commands a vital and important place in the contemporary dance world today. A brilliant dancer and inventive choreographer, Danny Grossman was for 10 years a leading performer in the Paul Taylor Dance Company and was invited by Rudolf Nureyev to perform in London for the Nureyev and Friends engagement.

The Danny Grossman Dance Company will present a lecture - demonstration on Thursday, November 9 at Espace Tournesol, 11845 - 77 Street.

Come and experience the wit, intensity and not to mention virtuosity of Danny Grossman's dances.

Lecture demonstration begins at 8:30 p.m. Admission is $2.50 and reservations can be made by calling 471-5235.

NAPOLEONIC ERA PAINTINGS

The St. Albert Library has on display a series of paintings from the collection of St. Albert resident Rolf Jauch. Ann Knight shows off some of the watercolours which may be viewed during regular hours.

A PEOPLE TO PEOPLE MOVE

Florence Lefebvre, chairman of The St. Albert Cultural Committee signs the People to People Petition for Canadian Unity, copy of which is presently at the St. Albert Library. It originated among "ordinary" citizens of Charlottetown, home of Confederation, in the hope that people in every part of Canada would join in inviting Quebecois to remain in our Canadian family. Jean Forest, Chancellor of the U of A, and honourary chairman of the petition is much disappointed in the response so far in Alberta. It is to be presented to Quebec before the New Year, and Mrs. Lefebvre invites all residents to sign the people's petition soon.

DYING TO SELF

When you are forgotten, or neglected, or purposely set at naught, and you don't sting and hurt with the insult or the oversight, but your heart is happy, being counted worthy to suffer for Christ, THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

When your good is evil spoken of, when your wishes are crossed, your advice disregarded, your opinions ridiculed, and you refuse to let anger rise in your heart, or even defend yourself, but take it all in patient loving silence, THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

When you lovingly and patiently bear any disorder, any irregularity, any impunctuality, or any annoyance, when you can stand face to face with waste, folly, extravagance, spiritual insensibility . . . and endure it as Jesus endured it, THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

When you are content with any food, any offering, any raiment, any climate, any society, any solitude, any interruption by the will of God, THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

When you never care to refer to yourself in conversation, or to record your own good works, or itch after commendation, when you can truly love to be unknown, THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

When you can see your brother prosper and have his needs met, and can honestly rejoice with him in spirit and feel no envy nor question God, while your own needs are far greater and in desperate circumstances. THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

When you can receive correction and reproof from one of less stature than yourself, and can humbly submit inwardly as well as outwardly, finding no rebellion or resentment rising up within your heart, THAT IS DYING TO SELF.

Are you dead yet? In these last days the Spirit would bring us to the Cross. "That I may know Him ... being made conformable to His death."

... Bill Britton, Author.

Although he drew a standing ovation at the "Meet the Candidates Assembly," the "Rock" is not the new President of the S.A.H.S. Students' Council. While the rest of the candidates just presented their platforms, the "Rock" came dressed for the occasion. He donned his best "rock" coat, street make-up and had his hair styled by Luigi's.

The results of the Student Council elections were announced at the dance last Thursday evening. Janet Boddez as president and Marc Durand as vice president will head the student government this term. Money matters will be ably taken care of by Joanne Gagnon. Taking notes at each meeting will be Leslie Holth as secretary. Social convenor Liane Scheibelhofer will be organizing different functions within the school. She will be assisted by Jill Lakeman, publicity chairman. Representatives for each grade were also elected. They are: Grade X - Judy Tworek; Grade XI - John Tworek; Grade XII - Wendy Kuzio.

Have you ever had a whole day crammed into half a day? Well, students had this experience on Wednesday and Thursday last week. The abbreviated schedule allowed time for teachers to meet with the parents of students in each grade.

30 YEARS OF DEDICATED SERVICE

Guy Raboud and his V.G. class proudly display the plaque commemorating his many years of service to the St. Albert Catholic School District.

Teacher recognized for 30 years service

To mark a special milestone - 30 years of teaching service in the St. Albert Catholic School system, a handsome plaque was presented to Mr. Guy Raboud on October 20, by the administration personnel of District 3. The informal presentation followed the annual wine and cheese party held early in the fall, when long-service certificates were awarded to deserving teachers in the district.

When Mr. Raboud joined the teaching staff in St. Albert in the fall of 1948, there were only eight teachers on staff of the single school, which served both the town and surrounding districts. The late Ted Tetreau and Mr. Raboud taught grades 9 to 12. Cecilia Blair had seven and eight, and the elementary grades were taught by Lillian Vague, Sister Lemire, Mrs. Brisson, Mrs. McMillan and Marie Wolniewicz. So he has seen considerable growth and change since he taught with those well-known oldtimers.

The first 10 years of Guy's teaching were spent at the high school level. But when Vital Grandin School was built in 1958 he transferred to the new school, where he has been employed ever since, serving as vice-principal under Vincent Maloney Lloyd Deutscher, Art Perrott and Jack Patterson.

For many years he served on the executive of the A.T.A. Local, and has acted as secretary and president of the St. Albert Lions Club.

Theatre 3 announces childrens plays

Artistic Director Keith Digby has announced that Theatre 3 will proceed with plans to mount a season of professional productions for elementary age children. The undertaking will be called "Young Theatre 3."

"Theatre 3 wishes to serve the entire Edmonton community. I see no reason why we should limit our audience according to age," says Digby, who has an extensive background in drama education and theatre for young audiences.

Young Theatre 3 will present three plays in its first season which will run from January to April of 1979.

Under consideration are Henry Beissel's Inook and the Sun, an acknowledged Canadian young people's classic about an Inuit boy's search for the sun -- and for himself; Suzan Zeder's Step on a Crack, a relevant script that explores a young girl's coming to terms with a new mother after her father's remarriage; and prairie playwright Rex Deverell's Shortshrift, a tale of a town stricken by a mysterious disease and a young Hero who challenges the bureaucrats to find the cause of the ailment.

Director Digby will assemble a company of actors who are experienced in young people's theatre to present these plays, which will be staged in the Provincial Museum theatre Tuesdays through Fridays for school groups, and Saturdays for the general public.

Detailed information on performance dates and times will be available after November 15 from Theatre 3.

One woman show thrills students

By Louise Zuk

The scene was set for an adventure in culture recently when Gilberte Bohemien, a 22 year old, French Canadian Manitoban, author-composer and guitarist, charmed 180 children at Father Jan School.

This one-woman show, approximately one hour in length, consisted of mime, song, music and story-telling. Of course the children were captivated to the point of actively participating with the clown's thrilling adventure.

Sound effects were made possible through the efforts of Richard Dupas. The performance was of an excellent quality and Gilberte's capacity for relating to children proved to be exceptional. It was sheer enjoyment!

Chard, Alberta in the fall of that year. Chard was near the Janvier Band reserve, where his parents, Francois and Marie Raboud carried on a fur trading business and cattle ranching.

He attended the Lac La Biche Mission school, going on to St. Anthony's and the Jesuit Colleges in Edmonton. From 1940 to 1942 he was enrolled at S.A.I.T. in Industrial Electricity, and in 1942 joined the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve. He served in the dockyards of St. John's Newfoundland, and aboard H.M.C.S. Summerside and H.M.C.S. Alberton in the North Atlantic and English Channel.

It was in the Newman Clubrooms at St. Joseph's resident college on the U of A campus that Guy met Helen Blaquiere, while both were taking some classes under the Christian Brothers, while getting their university degrees. Over the summer months their first home was built just south of the Strathcona Post Office, and on September 9 wedding bells rang in Edam, Saskatchewan.

In December, 1948 a daughter Connie was born and the following year the family moved to St. Albert, where the Rabouds became very active in community and parish life. Madeleine and Michele were born in 1951, followed by David and Paul in 1959 and 1961.

In 1959 Guy studied linguistics at the University of Alberta and eventually completed the course requirement for an M.A. degree. He went on to study audio-visual methods of teaching French in Philadelphia and at Laval University.

This past year the family project has been the building of a cottage at Wabamun. Once it is finished there will be more time to enjoy bridge, golf, tennis, painting, wine making, gardening, skiing, hunting and travelling. Last but not least, Guy will be learning to be a good grandpa for Kirsten.

PRIME TIME FOR LIVING

Legion hosts Halloween dance at Youville

On Wednesday, October 25 the Royal Canadian Legion Branch #271 entertained the residents and staff at a costume party.

President Ron Bull and his wife Ellie along with a large group of costumed members from the Branch started the evening with a sing song. It was led by the very capable m.c. Past President Vern Tompkins, accompanied on the guitar by Comrade Ford.

Roberta Enokson and her Youville partner led off the dancing and were quickly joined by members and seniors.

Music was provided by Ollie Kendall and The Blue Tones. Many of our friends are confined to wheelchairs but enjoyed the antics of the crowd and Ollie had everyone clapping and singing throughout the evening.

Draws were held by President Ron Bull assisted by Sister Blandine. Prizes went to the best costumed ladies and gentlemen. We must compliment the senior "lady" who was having so much trouble on the dance floor keeping her trousers hid under her dress. Well done to all our friends who donned hats and costumes to take part in the fun.

Lunch was served by the Legion and the evening of gaeity came to a close with everyone reluctant to leave.

Ross Hutton, vice president thanked everyone for their assistance.

EVERYBODY DANCES

Thanks to the St. Albert Legion, sponsoring a hallowe'en dance at the Youville Home provided a grand time for older folk. With lively music in the atmosphere everyone took a turn on the floor!

Older people to be great force

Speaking to the Convention of National Pensioners and Senior Citizens Federation on September 27, the Hon. Monique Begin, minister of National Health and Welfare, said she was glad to see older people organizing. "I believe your cause, the cause of older people, will be one of the great forces of the next decade," she said.

She told the seniors that the government has dug in its heels once and for all about indexing pension payments to the elderly - "you can count on it." Canadians she said had better face up to the question of old age benefits squarely now, because every year there is a higher percentage of people over 65.

In 1971 they formed 8.1 percent of the population, and by 1981 nine out of every hundred Canadians will be [illegible] or over. "On the de[illegible] pressing side," said the minister, consistently over the past 20 years more than half our elderly population has been among the poorest 20 percent of Canadians.

On January 1 she told the convention the government would add another $20 a month for each household that now received the guaranteed income supplement. The same amount will go to single persons as to couples, and the new benefits will also be indexed quarterly.

SUBSCRIBERS ! !

The distribution of our newspaper is handled in three ways: on newsstands, through the mail, and by our team of carriers.

The vast majority of our readers prefer receiving the Gazette from our carriers, and it is their job to ensure that you get the Gazette as early as possible every Wednesday, what ever the weather.

Lately, the most difficult part of the carriers job has been collecting from customers. People, now are more on the go, and therefore more difficult to catch at home.

We shouldn't overlook the problems caused by holidays and moving. It is difficult to remember money owed to a carrier.

For greater convenience to all, we are hoping that our readers will take this opportunity to subscribe to the Gazette on a yearly basis.

You won't have to worry about having change on hand, or the carrier bothering you at inopportune moments. The carrier will save time working his or her route, therefore affording them more time with their friends, family and personal activities. The carrier will still receive full creditation for the delivery (.07¢ per paper delivered). If you are moving or taking holidays, just give us a call, and the necessary adjustments will be made(subscription extension, transfer, etc.).

If you move away, you can keep up on local news through the mail by having your paper follow you to your new address.

Sturgeon composite working toward new attendance policy

Citing "people must be accountable for their actions" Sturgeon Composite High Principal Bill MacDonald brought a tough attendance policy proposal before members of the Sturgeon School Division Board of Trustees at their regular meeting last week.

Mr. MacDonald said accountability was the theme in which his school was trying to operate and this included teachers as well as students. He told Board members that "we (educators) are not training students only for universities but also for values." He said that people in the community wanted the school to stiffen up on attendance and that the school would like to reflect the wishes of the community.

The policy to 'stiffen up' on attendance was drafted by a committee of students (two), teachers and administrators. It was backed by 1977-78 statistics which showed the number of classes missed by Sturgeon Composite students to be significant. Missed classes resulted in credits being denied to 64 students in 84 courses in the first semester and 75 students in 131 courses in the second semester.

TRUSTEE WARD

The proposed policy would have credits denied after three inexcusable absences or a total of 10 inexcusable and excusable absenses in a five credit course, two inexcusable absences or a total of six in a three credit course, and two inexcusable absences or a total of four in a two credit course.

Inexcusable absences are defined in the policy as any "unwarranted" absence from class. Exceptions to the policy would be dealt with

SSD 24 will not financially assist student tours

Trustees of the Sturgeon School Division voted October 25 to not consider a proposal that would have the Board provide financial assistance to students involved in group tours. The assistance would have been in a form similar to the Student Loan program now in existence on the Provincial and Federal levels.

Trustee Ruth Wall, the only Board member to vote against Jim Ward's motion, said she could see a limited grant but not a loan.

The Board also moved to adopt guidelines for groups making the tours. Two teachers will accompany the students - one male and one female. The Board will pay for one substitute teacher and will not apply the 'credit denied policy' to students making the trips because the students will be putting in the extra work (the 'credit denied policy' takes effect when a student misses a predetermined number of classes). Students will not be given three credits for making the tour.

DUSTY TRAILS

While upgrading on Secondary 635 is nearing completion, vehicles using the road kick up huge billowing clouds of dust. But cheer up folks, next year it will be paved.

Cable to Morinville could be delayed

Appeals to the CRTC's recent decision to grant QCTV licenses to serve 23 Alberta communities could delay cable television from reaching the homes of Morinville. If the Federal Cabinet decides to set aside the CRTC decision, or requires that the Commission re-hear the applications it could delay cable service to rural communities until 1983.

Ed Polanski, president of QCTV, commented "Thousands of people in rural Alberta will not accept waiting four to five years for their service and should not continue to be penalized while a few disgruntled applicants try to make political hay."

Mr. Polanski told the Gazette that the cable company has already installed over 20 miles of cable in various communities; spent over $300,000 to date; employed 15 new people and is working daily with Alberta Government Telephones throughout the province to establish the needed microwave facilities.

Mr. Polanski continued, saying, "With these heavy commitments already made, there could be some interesting lawsuits result if any changes are made from the present situation."

He concluded, "I have confidence in the fact that the Federal Cabinet will recognize that the general public is not reacting negatively to the CRTC's decisions, merely a few dissatisfied applicants who have their own financial interests ahead of the public interest. But the public could react very quickly, and this would be political dynamite."

Sturgeon school board reorganizes

After one and one half hours closed meeting deliberation Trustees of Sturgeon School Division reached a decision on who would chair the Board and head up the various committees.

Trustee Keith Everitt spoke against the decision to hold the decision-making portion of the meeting 'in camera' saying "All the cards should be laid on the table. I have no objections to either the press (the Gazette) or administration being here (in the board room)." Trustee John McDonell agreed but the rest of the trustees sided with Lois Hole who felt it would be easier to discuss the position among themselves unencumbered by worries of personal matters leaving the room.

Apparently this was only the second time the administration had been asked to leave the room during Board discussions.

When the meeting was opened to the public once more the Board members began the process of electing new faces to old positions. Don Hood nominated Keith Everitt for Board Chairman but Mr. Everitt chose to decline the nomination for personal reasons. Jim Wall nominated past chairman Lois Hole who was unopposed by any other trustees.

BOARD CHAIRMAN

Keith Everitt's nomination of Don Hood for vice-chairman stood.

We're striving for improvement

It took us a while, but the Gazette has finally made the switch to two sections. No longer will our M.D. area readers have to search for the Sturgeon section of the Gazette. The Sturgeon news will be contained in a new separate section, with its own front page. Our staff is busy trying to produce more news and pictures to make this section even more interesting and appealing. We are sure you will notice the improvements in the issues to follow.

This new Sturgeon section will be backed with our regular Sports Section, which is of interest to people of both St. Albert and Sturgeon. We have just hired a new Sports Editor, Martin O'Kell, who will be covering sports throughout St. Albert and Sturgeon, bringing you weekly detailed sports coverage.

The Front Section of the Gazette will remain primarily for coverage of the St. Albert area, detailing the top news stories of the week, club news, activities, events and other news of the city. Our speciality pages will be of interest to both town and country readers.

On pages 4 and 5, you will find our Editorial Pages, which, in addition to having the Letters to the Editor, Guest Editorials, and our own Editorials, often contain informative articles about business and the economy. We keep our eyes peeled for oddities printed in other publications and reproduce them on these pages. Quite often we include a cartoon we feel will be of particular interest to our readers.

Our Entertainment Pages have featured theatre reviews for some time now. They are written by our Entertainment Editor, Vicky Knight, and have received wide appreciation. Bob Coles writes a column on the music scene and Simon has his Audio and Sound Spectrum column. We are also planning some book reviews in the near future to keep you up to date on some of the many current releases. And for the younger readers, we have Mara's Young Talent corner. Check it out. The kids can participate directly in this part of the paper, by sending in their drawings and other creative efforts.

The Gazette has also initiated a Seniors Page, called Prime Time For Living, which relates news of interest to Senior Citizens in St. Albert and the MD of Sturgeon. On The Home Front is a section primarily for the homemaker, where fashion, cooking, crafts and related articles appear.

The Classified Ads, where many of our readers have found a reliable marketplace, will be located at the back of the Front Section.

We are pleased to be able to offer our readers these improvements and future changes are in the works. Our next major change will be giving the Sports Section of the Gazette its own separate section, but this will have to be left for later. We are continually striving to make the Gazette better for you, and we appreciate the comments, suggestions and criticism you have given us in the past. Feel free to give us a call.

Attendance policy

The present policy allows students 10 absences. According to Assistant Principal H. Rigney the students will use the absences if they think they have them and Trustee Joyce Porsild agreed that this was in fact what was happening.

Trustee Jim Ward asked about kicking out a student with a 98% average, on the grounds he had three inexcusable absences. He said he had managed to maintain a high average during high school while skipping out on this number of classes. Mr. MacDonald answered by returning to the point of the school teaching values to the students.

VANDALISM DECREASED

The principal added that vandalism in the school had decreased this year with 99% of Grade 10's in class for the entire school day. He said that when students were not in class they remained in the school and this is when incidents of vandalism took place.

Sturgeon Composite instituted the full course load policy for Grade 10 students this year and according to Mr. MacDonald the school has received "insurmountable flak" from parents who wanted their children to have at least one spare period. The no spares policy kept the students from loitering about the school. According to the proposed policy's rationale, Grade 10 students are "not able to use leisure time wisely."

Trustee Ward was openly upset with this last conjecture and made it plain he did not care for its inclusion in the policy.

The proposed policy also suggested Grade 10 students not be allowed to drop courses once they had registered for them. Once again this was rationalized as a matter of accountability which prompted Superintended Frank Robinson to comment, "It sounds as if you pick the wrong woman you stick with her for life."

The superintendent also was against mixing the excusable and inexcusable absences. "Don't hold excusable absences against the kid. Let's show some humanity," Mr. Robinson said adding that he would like the throw (in reference to the baseball play) on the side of the students. He said there must be a built-in redemption clause that would allow students a chance to make up for lost time.

Associate Superintendent Walter Heppler said he would like to see credit restored to students who lost them under the attendance policy through some form of make-up provision. He wanted it in writing in the policy. Trustee Ruth Wall agreed that it must be spelled out that students can get credits back with work.

The discussion had carried on for nearly two hours with the only obvious conclusion being that very few people around the table were ready to agree to a policy then and there. Trustee Ward moved that the matter be tabled to a special meeting November 13 for further research, and input. He said the Board would get back to the school later.

The motion carried unanimously.

A very pleasant few hours of fellowship were enjoyed last Tuesday evening October 24 following the regular Community League meeting. Relatives, friends and neighbours of Mary Von Speer, Shirley and Roy Speer and Esther and Willie Lobner gathered to wish them good luck in their new homes. They have all been longtime active residents of this community. Mrs. Speer has taken up residence in Fort Saskatchewan with Shirley and Roy, moving to the St. Paul area and Esther and Willie to Abbey, Alberta.

Quilting gets underway this Thursday and bargello next Monday. For further information call Peggy Wenzel at 973-5783.

There has been a good response again to the badminton club and they will be playing on Mondays and Thursdays from 7 - 10 p.m. Call Trudy Freeman 973-7179.

Martin Shewchuk will again be giving art instruction. A Registration Night was held last week and two classes are being formed. If you are interested, please call Peggy Wenzel.

Patricia UCW Turkey Supper will be held in the school gym on Saturday, November 4 with sittings at 5 p.m., 6:15 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Call Jim Bentley 973-5787 for tickets.

Commission chairman supports open market barley sales

Tom Thurber, chairman of the Alberta Cattle Commission, has expressed agreement with Alberta Agriculture Minister Marvin Moore, that producers should have their say regarding an "open market" concept for marketing barley. Mr. Thurber suggests that the current method of price determination for domestic barley is a major deterrant to the long-term development of the Western livestock industry and also a deterrant to barley production as a croppingalternative.

Pricing of non-Board barley is a guessing game based on the level of Canadian Wheat Board delivery quotas, initial payments, anticipated final payments, and the cash flow situation of grain producers. The present system of marketing feed grains is responsible for creating price fluctuations which in the long-term, hurt the barley grower and the Western livestock industry. For example, in the last two to three years, continued Thurber, Alberta non-Board barley prices were often priced much above the world market and above other livestock production areas in North America. Now Alberta non-Board barley prices are priced below our competitors. The barley grower in Montana is receiving 50¢ to 60¢ per bushel (Canadian funds) more than his counterpart in Alberta. These discrepancies in feed grain prices accentuate the peaks and troughs of the livestock production cycle, and in the long-term will cause the livestock feeding industry to shift to regions where the price of the feed is determined in a competitive marketplace.

The final result, concluded Thurber, will be fewer cattle fed in the West and a reduced demand for Western feed grains. The livestock industry is the major customer for Western barley. Both grain and livestock producers should be striving to improve the present pricing system.

New energy sources for farming plants : Biomass rate high

Research is going on in a number of areas to see how renewable energy sources can best be utilized to serve agriculture. For energy is as essential to modern Canadian agriculture as soil and water. At present - and for the foreseeable future Agriculture Canada economists say that fossil fuels will provide the main source, noting that the biggest energy input in agriculture is gasoline and diesel fuel for farm machinery, and natural gas for the manufacture of fertilizers.

But government engineers are leading research to reduce fuel demands and at the same time identify operations that could make use of alternate energy sources. Already zero tillage is being practiced on the prairies and the government also reports that the economy of diesel engines has resulted in increased sales of tractors so equipped.

Attention is being paid to solar and wind power and energy produced from biomass methods. "As far as renewable energy sources are concerned, plants still rate as the largest collectors and converters, says Gordon Timbers, an energy specialist with the Engineering and Statistical Research Institute in Ottawa.

Processing plant material - a form of biomass, can produce a wide range of chemicals, many of which promise to fit energy consumption requirements in agriculture. Work is centered on the forest industry in Canada. Dr. Timbers says "harvesting waste, saw mill wastes, diseased stands and hybrid popular all figure in the biomass resource."

Other techniques could involve the use of a portion of the 20 million tons of straw produced as fuel. Direct combustion or gasification to provide energy for grain drying and space heating are possible uses being tested.

Production of methane gas, also used as a fuel, through the fermentation of animal wastes is another energy option for agriculture. Scientists at the University of Manitoba have been testing fermentation processes for the past five years, and two farm demonstrations are currently ongoing.

As for windmills, Dr. Timbers feels that from an economic standpoint they are a speculative alternative at present.

Solar power is also under investigation for space heating animal shelters, pumping water for livestock, and heating swine and poultry houses. Low temperature grain drying by solar energy is under careful study with some pilot units already in operation, and showing a potential savings of 50 percent of consumption of conventional fuels.

Energy conservation and solar heating in greenhouses both show promise of fuel savings. Work in these areas is being expanded according to Harold Jackson and Dr. Jim Monrose, two engineers involved in the Ag department's solar program.

620 GRAIN DRILL

Take the positive approach to seeding.

Buy At Prices Quoted Last Spring And Pay The Difference Next Spring

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CANADA

With one of the biggest capacities in the industry (11.2 to 40.6 bushels), the 620 Grain Drill comes in 8, 10, 12 and 14-foot sizes. Choose plain grain hopper or combination hopper with 2-position divider for adjusting grain and fertilizer ration.

Centre-mounted forecarriage high flotation wheels provide a three-point suspension that allows the drill to follow ground contours in uneven terrain. Because the forecarriage wheels don't run in the tractor tracks, compaction is reduced and you seed closer to wet spots.

Zigzag double disk openers with front delivery place seeds in the bottom of the furrow for quick germination. Also, endwise transport means less time getting there — available for use on 10, 12 or 14-foot drills to allow easy moving of up to 42-feet of drill width.

Other features include exclusive IH feed cup and drop bottom for easy clean-out of fertilizer to prevent corrosion.

The Secret War by Brian Johnson. Interest in the use of scientific and technological intelligence during World War 11 has become very widespread. The BBC made a documentary series on the subject which hopefully will be shown on the CBC Naval, military and airforce gadgetry developed by both sides during the war including Radar, the V.1 and V.11. High frequency direction finding, magnetic mines, glider experiments, helicopters and much more are all explained in simple language. The book should attract those readers who seek an overall guide to the subject which is easy to understand by the non-technically minded. There are photographs and helpful diagrams.

The God in the Mountain by Colin Thurbron. The mountain in question is somewhere in the Eastern Mediterranean. To the surrounding populace it is sanctified by the shrine of their revered Saint. To the nearby American mining co-operation it is an "El Dorado" of high grade copper. The conflict that ensues between progress and traditional values, makes a noval of great power, touching upon many of the most urgent issues in every society today.

Merlin's Keep by Madeleine Brent. A well-told romance with the action this time in the Himalayas. A story of love, loyalty, mystery and courage and danger which moves to a startling climax amid the mountains on the top of the world.

Legal CWL signs petition for unity

On October 17 St. Emile's CWL Parish Council of Legal held its regular meeting. Mrs. Barry, our president, was absent due to a death in the family. Our sincerest sympathies are extended to the family.

Mrs. Pat Montpetit chaired the meeting, which took place in the new meeting room. Everyone was most favorably impressed with the newly decorated and furnished facilities.

Father Levasseur opened the meeting with the league prayer.

The National Diocesan Council has forwarded a petition on Canadian Unity to all CWL councils for signatures. It is a people-to-people petition which when signed will be presented to the people of Quebec.

The church life convenor read an article on "The Family being the Most Important Unit in Society." She then led us in a discussion on "how should parents be actively present to their children and how do we work for marriage and the welfare of the family."

This was followed by a discussion on sex education in our schools. Many ideas were brought forward but no simple solutions were arrived at.

This year the CWL school awards will be presented as in previous years. Please note that next year, our awards are to be presented to the highest achiever in religious instruction from junior high and senior high.

At our November meeting we plan on having someone instruct us in crocheting. We will then begin on an afghan which when completed will be raffled at our spring bake sale.

The meeting adjourned with our prayer to Our Lady of Good Council.

Falkenberg to talk on financial stress

Stress on family farms can be caused by a variety of factors but finances are the most significant according to the results of Women of Unifarm's spring workshops on stress held throughout rural Alberta.

The current significance of financial problems on farm family life is expected to be a major issue at the eighth annual Women of Unifarm convention, slated for November 7 and 8 at the Sheraton Summit hotel in Calgary.

Because of the strong feeling that finances are the number one concern, says president Leda Jensen of Hussar, the organization has invited Unifarm president Howard Falkenberg to speak at the November 7 luncheon. Ways in which the organization can work with Unifarm to alleviate some of the stress caused by farm finances will be noted, said Mrs. Jensen.

That finances are such a major worry is disconcerting, says Mrs. Jensen, particularly when there are many other significant social and community problems to be approached. Yet the concerns over finance are real, she said. With operating costs so high today even good managers are starting to wonder about the economic viability of farming, states Mrs. Jensen.

Some 150 women from all parts of Alberta are expected to attend the convention to discuss a variety of resolutions including farm business problems, care of the aged, education and health care. Delegates will also hear from several speakers including director of the Alberta senior citizens' bureau, Mary Englemann on November 7. The next morning, Shirley Marcuse, coordinator of the child abuse program at the Alberta Children's Hospital will be the featured speaker.

Pool studies Prince Rupert terminal

Alberta Wheat Pool continues to study the need and opportunity for new or improved grain terminal facilities at Prince Rupert. Such facilities, should they prove justified and practical, are seen as future needs to serve Alberta grain producers as export volumes increase through West Coast ports, rather than replacement of present Vancouver facilities. Financial proposals, which appear feasible, are available.

Alberta Pool has been working closely with the B.C. development corporation, the government of Alberta and the federal government in defining the opportunity at Prince Rupert. Data available to date indicates that announcement of development plans would be premature. Announcement of funds for site preparation by Otto Lang this week did not deal with grain terminals; his message should be read in context.

Alberta Wheat Pool regrets the political overtones which now surround potential plans for a grain terminal at Prince Rupert. Availability of funds and opportunity for industry co-operation with the three governments involved could be threatened if the issue becomes politically charged.

There is no doubt that future grain volumes from Canada's West Coast will increase and sooner or later new alternatives to some Vancouver facilities must be constructed. Alberta Pool sees the need for concerted action, perhaps on a large scale development, based on the results of various studies, some of which are just now becoming available. Only when such findings have been analyzed can terms of financial and other participation be designed.

MORINVILLE ON THE MOVE

It looks as if the shoppers of Morinville will have more places to spend their hard earned money if this sign is any indication. The new shopping centre is located on the west end of main street.

AHA to sponsor special calf sales

The Alberta Hereford Association will become more involved to assisting the commercial cattleman to market his Hereford. The first step, starting this fall, will be to sponsor a series of special calf sales throughout the province. This will be done in conjunction with the local auction markets which are giving full co-operation to the venture.

Representatives of Alberta Commercial Hereford Sales have met with the board of directors of the Alberta Auction Market Association and it was decided to run the sales on the following basis:

The local auction market will have full control over the operation of the sale;

A group of local registered Hereford breeders will be organized in each area to assist in locating cattle and buyers for these special sales.

Cattlemen who feel these sales would be beneficial in their area are asked to contact their local auction market. Also, John Milne, secretary-manager of the Alberta Auction Markets Association and Doug Fraser Hussar, chairman of the committee for the A.H.A. will assist in organizing sales. For a list of these fall sales and order buying services, interested parties should get in touch with John Hay, secretary-manager of the A.H.A., Box 910, Innisfail.

Registered Hereford breeders are urged to contact their bull customers among the commercial breeders. If they have calves to sell this fall ask them to list them in one of these Hereford calf sales at their local auction market.

Future plans for the Alberta Commercial Hereford Sales include yearling feeder sales and sales featuring Hereford commercial breeding stock.

UCW take up carpenter's tools

Well, its been a busy summer for UCW members. Deciding that "Women Power" was needed to solve the perennial problem of the bathroom facilities in the church. So, armed with hammers, crowbars, good humour and laughter, they gathered on a Wednesday morning in June and proceeded to tear out the existing bathrooms. They were aided and abetted by the strong arms of Mr. James Shaw, Sr., and Mr. Stewart Shaw. Mr. Delorme arrived about 11 a.m. to pump and clean out the old pit, and as members weren't quite ready, shared a glass or two of Kool Aid with them while waiting for us to finish. After he had completed his task, he shared pot-luck lunch with the group and departed, followed by Mr. Shaw. The rest stayed to pull nails and so to salvage all the panelling, trim, lumber etc. Husbands and children were invited to join the group in a wiener roast the following Friday evening, and incidentally, to fill the pit with gravel. This was accomplished in short order and all enjoyed a couple of hours of fellowship.

The next item on the agenda was to fill the top of the pit with 2x8's and to install a plywood floor over the old concrete one. The ladies report they handled a mean saw and accomplished the job quite well. Mr. Dave Foreman donated the 2x8's and plywood. Sandra Shaw rounded up several men in the community to put up the studs to form walls for two bathrooms and also to build a false wall behind the kitchen sink to enclose the plumbing in the basement. During the past few weeks, the ladies have put down floor tiles in the bathroom, panelled and Varathaned the basement sink walls, replaced ceiling tile panelling removed by the plumber, and are in the process of making a small kitchenette (complete with stove, sink and cupboards) out of the upstairs storage closet. A heartfelt thank you goes to all those who contributed many hours of time and labour as well as generous donations.

FRUIT CAKE BAKED

On October 10 and 11 both Units 1 and 11 assembled at the church hall. They chose the morning meeting as most of the members have to drive grain trucks and make meals at home for combining in the afternoon. The purpose of the gathering was the production of 400 pounds of fruit cake! This involved the washing of fruit, beating 40 dozen eggs, the use of homemade butter, the assembling of dry ingredients, etc. When it came time to mix the dough and the fruit, a lot of muscles worked overtime. All the cakes were baked in members' homes.

Many thanks are extended to those who kindly donated the ingredients for the cakes. Now that that task is out of the way, members' thoughts have turned to the Fall Supper, which is on November 4, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. All are welcome.

Last Round-up News

By Jean Toane

Black cats and witches brought hallowe'en greetings from the Sunday School Circle to the 43 members of the Last Round-up at their meeting on Thursday, October 26, 1978, in the Dew Drop Inn. The delicious chocolate cake was decorated by Mrs. Della Gibbons, and honored those members who celebrated birthdays in October, namely, Jean Fowler, Reg Austin, Katie Brandle, Jane Hood, Jeanette Petherbridge, Agnes Petherbridge.

For some time now we have wondered who gave us the attractive Orange Tree which graces our farm yard in the Dew Drop Inn. Thank you, Joyce Gay, we do appreciate your gift!

Joe Hostyn was our able Bingo caller for this meeting, although for most of us he called the wrong numbers.

A short business meeting followed the bingo games. After some discussion the members present voted in favor of restricting activities in the Inn to senior citizen activities. A motion was passed that we do not lease the facilities of Dew Drop Inn to any group. Lillian Austin reported that we should soon be able to get films. Next Thursday, everyone is reminded to come to the Inn for Games Day. Please put your thinking caps on and write down any suggestions you have about what we still need in our centre, and hand them in at this Games Day.

While lunch was being prepared by Jane Hood, Lillian Austin and Jean Toane, John Trelford, who was visiting his mother, Mrs. Hazel Atkinson, a guest at Spruce View Manor, entertained us with a delightful program of songs. They were greatly enjoyed by all of us.

A business meeting of the buying committee followed. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank two energetic young students who helped us so willingly last Saturday before the Anglican church supper. The boys were Wayne Petherbridge and Darcy Toker, and they set up all the tables and chairs in a very short time. Thank you very much, boys!

TEA & BAKE SALE

The Brownies and Girl Guides hallowe'en tea and bake sale was a great success. Charming little ladies in Royal Blue served over 150 adults, who dropped in for tea or coffee and spicy pumpkin cake, generously topped with whipped cream. The guests were seated at seven long tables decorated with black spiders and tiny orange pumpkins.

Home baked goodies at the bake sale table were sold out. The door prize, a chocolate chiffon cake in the shape of a pumpkin and beautifully decorated by Brenda Magus was won by Mr. T. Woodward of the Golden Villa.

There was a disappointing showing of mothers to assist, but the few who organized it and worked behind the scenes were greatly helped by the Girl Guides, who, as well as serving tea also assisted in the kitchen and the cleaning up. Good work girls and moms. It was a lovely tea party!

The area training session will be held at the Redwater School November 4.

LEGION NEWS

Miss Sherri Chaba was the lucky winner of the Legion bingo jackpot of $1,205 last Thursday evening. The bingo is a weekly affair held every Thursday in the Legion Hall and sponsored by the Redwater Legion.

Remembrance Day will be marked in Redwater by a parade, the Remembrance service at the Cenotaph, and a short religious service in the Legion Hall, followed by coffee and donuts.

Later in the evening a social 'get-together' will be held in the Legion Hall. Everyone is welcome. For more information about the Remembrance Day celebration inquire at the Post Office.

Air Cadets on Parade

Tuesday evening, November 7, a Promotion Night will be held for the cadets of the Sturgeon squadron. Parents and friends are invited to attend this important event. As well, since November 7 is the first Tuesday of the month, the regular sponsoring committee meeting will be held. All parents are urged to come as there are a number of issues to discuss as we work together for the benefit of the squadron.

Cadets are reminded that there will be swimming at the CFB Namao pool from 4 - 6 p.m., every Sunday from now until Christmas.

Range instruction with Capt. Loblick will be given in the classroom before starting sessions at the rifle range in the Bon Accord Community Centre.

New cadets enrolled with the squadron will have uniforms issued starting October 31 and it is hoped to have everyone outfitted in the next few weeks, if possible.

Lt. E. Mortimer, training officer, hopes to have volunteers try out for a drill team. This will involve extra hours of practice but is well worth the effort by interested cadets.

Upcoming Events - Saturday, November 11, Remembrance Day Parades at Redwater and Gibbons.

What is agriculture?

What is agriculture?

Many Canadians are beginning to realize that agriculture is much more than just something farmers, ranchers and country folk do. Agriculture is a complicated subject that touches the lives of every Canadian. In this country it dates back to 1617 when Louis Hebert started to grow grain on a small farm cleared from the forest near Quebec City.

Today there are more than 300,000 farms that employ 474,000 people, or five percent of the national labor force, directly in agriculture. Each farmer produces enough food to feed himself and 52 others. In 1977 farm cash receipts totalled $10 billion while farm operators' net incomes were slightly more than $4 billion. And agricultural exports were about 10 percent of Canada's export trade at a value of $4.4 billion.

Beekeeping

Almost anyone can keep bees. As a hobby or a commercial venture, beekeeping can be both profitable and fascinating.

Beekeeping is an important part of Canadian agriculture, particularly in the West. Honey production in 1977 was about 27 million kilograms, valued at $32 million.

Novice beekeepers can get information on how to care for bees by writing to Agriculture Canada's Information Services in Ottawa, K1A 0C7.

Rummies Flag Football champs

St. Albert's Flag Football League has its first champion. The Rummies won the pennant race with a record of seven wins, no losses and one tie. Close behind were the Longview Longhorns whose only loss came at the hands of the Rummies.

Rob Crossley, ace receiver for the Blubber Butts, handily wrapped up the scoring title with 150 points, 48 more than his nearest rival Allan Stephan of the Phantoms. The Phantoms made a strong finish to their season winning their last four games to bring their record even.

Action to date had the Longhorns dumping the Sore Losers October 22 on a last play TD. The same day the surging Phantoms hung an identical score on the once feared Dirty Dozen who finished the season a little 'washed up'. And the only team with a chance to spoil the Rummies unbeaten record blew it when the Butts dropped a 27-6 decision. Larry Powers of the Butts and Rummies QB Geoff Holden finished tied for most TD passes at 38.

Wednesday the Longhorns put the finishing touches to a dismal finish by the Dozen by pounding them 32-6. Longhorns QB Norman Martel connected for five TD passes in that game.

PHANTOM OF THE GRIDIRON

Sometimes getting a good grab on a flag requires that you slow down the runner a little first. It didn't help the Broozers however as they dropped the final game of the St. Albert Flag Football season 46-12.

Sturgeon Jets record first win in C.J.H.L.

Sturgeon Jets recorded their first win of the Capital Junior Hockey League 1978-79 season last Wednesday with a 7-4 win over Devon Drillers.

Jets have lost their other three starts having been defeated by Leduc Stingers (5-4), Stony Plain Flyers (5-3) and 8-5 to Fort Saskatchewan Hawks.

Devon are without a win in four games losing to Stony Plain (7-1), Sherwood Park (8-3) and 7-1 to Enoch Warriors.

Sherwood Park Knights and Leduc Stingers are both undefeated in four games while Enoch and Stony Plain have two wins and two losses. Jets and Fort Saskatchewan are tied for fifth with one win and three losses.

Last Wednesday in the Morinville Arena, Jets came up with three unanswered third period goals to break open a 4-4 tie and win rather easily.

Jets coach John Stayko took advantage of some unnecessary Driller penalties while keeping his own players under control and saw his boys come up with two power-play goals.

Drillers were running all over the ice for most of the third period and coach Dale Fisher had absolutely no control nor did referee Al Stoll who almost let the game get out of control.

Rick Provencal and Danny Pelletier led the Jets with two goals each while Rory Squires, Wayne Van Brabant and Jerry McMeecan added singles.

Drillers received a pair of goals from Mike Bower with singles going to Darcy Turner, and Randy Steinhauer.

Jets are at home tonight (Wednesday) to Sherwood Park and again this Saturday when Enoch Warriors will be the visitors. Both games get underway at 8:30 p.m.

An unidentified Sturgeon Jet player gets set to lower the boom on Jim Winura of the Devon Drillers in last Wednesday's Capital Junior Hockey League game played in Morinville. Devon had their sticks up for most of the contest and as a result dropped a 7-4 decision to the Jets.

Out-of-towners cash in at St. Albert Men's Open

The 1978 version of the St. Albert Men's Open Bonspiel wrapped up Sunday evening with rinks from elsewhere taking home most of the glory.

St. Albert rinks finished runner-up in three of the four events but Edmonton rinks captured all the winner's trophies.

The Ken Matheson rink defeated the Ray Osborne rink of St. Albert in the Jay's Auto Parts sponsored 1st Event. Curling with Ray were 3rd Harlan Schultz, 2nd Danny Woytiuk and lead Bob Duward. The winners accepted 12" B/W TV's and the runners-up received Black and Decker Deluxe Workmates.

The Ken Payne Homes sponsored 2nd Event was an all out-of-town affair with Edmonton's Dave Connolly taking out another Edmonton foursome, the Eddie Kuz rink, St. Albert's Randy Christenson and Kurt Schinkinger finished third and fourth respectively.

St. Albert's Gary Mix skipping the Otto Mobiles rink was runner-up to the Bill McCallum rink of Edmonton in the 3rd Event sponsored by Gateway Building Supplies. The McCallum rink took home Wet/Dry shop vacuums and Mix, 3rd John Johnson, 2nd Rick Dallyn and lead Brian Strecker received 12 cup coffee makers.

The 4th Event, sponsored by Norm Murray Realty, went to the Laurie Andrews rink of Edmonton over the Barry Weaver rink of the St. Albert Curling Club. Curling with Barry were 3rd Bruce Walker, 2nd Doug Lawrence and lead George Ritchie. The Dave Martens rink of St. Albert finished fourth in the 4th.

Next major action generated by the Men's Club is the Hec Gervais Invitational Curling Classic slated for the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th of December. The whole thing kicks off with the annual Hec Gervais Classic stag November 30.

Boxers preparing for first card

Three boxers from the St. Albert Boxing Club will be entered in a card at the Native Friendship Centre Friday night. Weigh-in is at 7 p.m.

The club presently has 14 boys without a losing record and Manager Del Larson says it is becoming increasingly difficult to arrange bouts without bringing in boys from distant areas of the province.

Del is planning a card for St. Albert next month but is presently hampered by a lack of funds. He is awaiting a decision on a grant request submitted to the City. If it comes through he will also be able to stage the Alberta Junior Golden Gloves in this community scheduled for around March next year.

At present Del and his trainers have been footing the expenses but it is becoming a strain on their finances. Without new and additional equipment the staging of even a minor fight card would be out of the question.

The club runs training sessions Wednesday and Friday nights at Father Jan School from 6 - 8 p.m. Any boys who would like to come down to the school at these times are more than welcome. The tough regimen is an excellent way to attain a top physical condition.

PEEWEE'S HAVE WIND-UP

were given a run for their money as the revitalized Converts held them 7-6 well into the second half before allowing two quick touchdowns. The final result was 20-7 as three separate Sore Losers QB's tossed TD passes to three different receivers.

The Phantoms and Broozers were on the field for the final league game and the Phantoms walked away with an easy 46 - 12 victory. The Broozers were delegated last place on the strength of the worst points for and against record even though they finished the season tied with the Converts at two wins apiece.

Plans for next season include an August start, playoffs, provincial competition, a tournament with Sherwood Park, paid referees, two divisions, trophies, uniforms and an increased registration fee.

St. Albert Breakfast Lions look at a new field house

On Tuesday, October 24 the St. Albert Breakfast Lions Club passed a resolution approving in principle the building of a new field house. The proposed field house would be located on the property between Vincent Maloney Junior High School and Sir Alexander Mackenzie School. The proposed field house would include dressing rooms with shower facilities, storage rooms and a concession service. It is hoped that the field house would be ready for the Summer Games to be held in St. Albert during the summer of 1979.

At present the Breakfa Lions are looking at various designs and associated cost

St. Albert skaters preparing for Alberta Championships

St. Albert will be hosting the Alberta Figure Skating Championships December 6, 7, 8 and 9 with action slated for both City arenas.

It is the first time St. Albert has been awarded the Championships and they come here largely through the efforts of Club President and Provincial Championship Chairman Jackie Malinowski. The fact St. Albert has the new Akinsdale facility was the clincher.

So far the St. Albert club has one definite entry with six skaters still to qualify at the sectional competitions November 11.

Kevin Malinowski and Bonnie Sliwa (of the Fliteway Club) have been working out preparing for the pre-novice dance pairs competition. It is their first try at dance pair competition and they will be going into it with only three month's practice as a team. Most dance pairs have worked out together a year before they enter this level competition but Bonnie and Kevin are sincere about giving the Championship all they've got.

Natalie Lassiter is another St. Albert Club skater who will be competiting. Natalie was the gold medal winner at the sectional finals two years ago before taking the silver in the Juvenile Ladies competition at the Alberta Championships. In December she will be entered in the pre-novice level where the St. Albert Club holds high hopes for her.

The staging of the Alberta Championships requires an enormous amount of volunteer work. Mrs. Malinowski will be co-ordinating a volunteer work force of 300 - 350 persons plus judges, accountants, and referees. She expects 120 - 170 skaters to be entered in the all-day four-day affair. The majority of the volunteers come from St. Albert although many are from Edmonton and the surrounding area.

Judges will be present from Manitoba, Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Lethbridge, and Grande Prairie. There will also be eight accountants to tabulate results. The Chief Referee is an Edmontonian and the Chief Accountant is from Calgary.

SKATING DUO

Practice is long and hard for the pre-novice dance team of Kevin Malinowski and Bonnie Sliwa in preparation for December's Zone skate competitions.

The St. Albert Figure Skating Club has arranged for a photographer to take individual and group pictures of club members. Each folder will contain the individual's photo as well as a group shot with the Pro. Names will be included. No down payment is required nor is there an obligation to buy.

Nationals pictures will be taken next week on lesson nights at 6:15 p.m. The nights are November 6, 7, 8 and 9. Canadian Figure Skating Association pictures will be taken next week. Donna's will be taken November 13 and Margaret's on November 15. Both are 5 p.m.

Grey Cup Pool tickets are available from members of the executive and some club members.

There is a block of ice time available 8:30 - 10 p.m. Fridays which is open to all members holding a preliminary figure and up. Why not use this opportunity to come out and skate?

Next Friday from 6 - 8 p.m. tests on figure, free-style and dance will be given at the Perron Street Arena. New members are invited to watch but are asked to remain quiet during this very tense moment.

Advance tickets for the Alberta-NWT Sectional Championships (December 5 - 9) are now available. St. Albert Community Services has more information.

Ron Hodgson Pontiacs take league opener

Juvenile "A" Highway 14 hockey league action got underway Friday night when St. Albert Ron Hodgson Pontiacs took on the Leduc Stingers in Leduc.

It was the second meeting of the two clubs. The first was an exhibition game in St. Albert that the Pontiacs took 7 - 0. Friday night's game was just a replay as St. Albert took the opener 7 - 1.

In the first period, both teams played excellent hockey. Even though the Pontiacs outscored Leduc 4-1, it was end-to-end hockey for 20 minutes. Scoring for St. Albert in the first were Todd Winquist (two), Ken Young, and Jeff Harmon.

The second period was disorganized and marred by 11 penalties - seven to St. Albert. Pontiacs increased their lead with an unassisted goal by Ken Young.

Both teams came out to play hockey in the third. Leduc Stingers started to throw their weight around and collected seven out of the 10 penalties that were handed out in the final stanza. St. Albert picked up another two goals from Cliff Greening and Colin Tooth.

There were two match penalties handed out during the game. Ken Young of St. Albert received a one-game suspension for butt ending and a Stinger player Svenson received one goal for face mask pulling. St. Albert's Calvin McCauley picked up a two-game suspension for obscene gestures and a Leduc player Banner received a two-game suspension for insulting the referee.

The third meeting between these two teams will take place this Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Akinsdale Arena.

Raiders shelled in league openers

St. Albert's representative Midget A team took to the road for their opening games of the 1978-79 season. Neither Sherwood Park or Red Deer were very considerate hosts as they bombed their visitors by 11-6 scores. For St. Albert fans there were few bright spots coming from the action.

Four teams play in the league including St. Albert. The others are Sherwood Park, Red Deer and Fort Saskatchewan. The local Raiders have a tough season ahead as was indicated by their first two games but Coach John Ewan and his players plan to work hard and get on the winning column of the scoresheet.

The team did manage six goals in each of the games and the players are encouraged by that fact. With some work on their checking and the enthusiasm, desire and positive thought the players now have, they plan to be a 'power to be reckoned with' by Christmas.

Some of the team members had exceptional road trips with Darrell Turnbull scoring a hat trick and two assists. Keith Heyburn picked up a pair of goals and a pair of assists. Defenceman Scott Holliday scored two goals and earned an assist and Brent Weller had a goal and two assists. Single markers went to Cam Swist, Curt Bokenfohr, Scott McIntyre and Craig Miller.

Both goaltenders put in credible performances given the protection they received but both still need a little more work to sharpen their skills.

Raiders play at home tomorrow when they host the Fort Saskatchewan midgets in the Perron Street Arena at 8 p.m.

Bermont Broncos hold wind-up

Play in the St. Albert Minor Baseball Association has been completed for several weeks now but not everyone has forgotten the excellent season it was.

Last week the Bermont Broncos put the finishing touches to their season with a picnic and award presentation held at Lions Park. The boys voted by secret ballot among themselves to select trophy winners.

Kurt Trent was chosen as the Most Improved Player, and Blain Malanchen received the Most Valuable Player award. A Perfect Attendance Trophy went to Rick Komick who did not miss a single game or practice. Blain Malanchen received a trophy for having the highest batting average on the team (.727).

Each team member - Tom Fix (C), Cliff Pannebaker (AC), Daryl Tochenuik (AC), Rob Boddez, Kurt Trent, Craig Rusnak, Lee Fenton, John Holden, Darren Walters, Warren Schneider, Scott Forster, Rick Komick and Blain Malanchen - was presented with a baseball medal by host coach Roy Malanchen.

Special presentations were made to those people whose volunteer efforts behind the scenes kept the season rolling smoothly. Mrs. Phyllis Pannebaker received a 'thank you' trophy for her help. Coach Malanchen was given a trophy by the team members and Mrs. Malanchen received a beautiful St. Albert spoon.

All the boys were wearing their new team jackets which they were able to purchase with a donation from their sponsor Bermont Realty.

Terry Schneider and Ed Rusnak were thanked for their help with the team as was everyone who contributed food for the wind-up party. The boys were wished good luck in the future and thanked by the coaches who said they had been a pleasure to share the sport of baseball with.

BRONCOS REWARDED

Legal

Women give oldtimers hockey lesson

Legal's Oldtimer Hockey Club had to fight from behind to gain a tie with the Edmonton Chimos in an exhibition game played Sunday evening.

The Chimos are a women's hockey team with players ranging in age from 15 to 25 years. They opened up a 3-1 lead playing a very tough brand of hockey that allowed the women to body check but not the men.

The Oldtimers trailed the Chimos right up to the 18 minute mark of the final period when they scored to bring the game even at 4-4.

Word has it that the Chimos will be playing an exhibition match in St. Albert some time in the future. Prospective opponents had better take head of the Legal Oldtimers' experience. The blow to the male ego could be devastating.

Legal's Senior A club dropped two exhibition tiffs with Morinville on the weekend.

Morinville took the first game 9-1 at home and then travelled to Legal Sunday where they again were the victors 8-4.

Legal's roster had not been set before the exhibition as the coaches used games situations to look at some new faces in the line-up.

Bantam hockey opener Monday

The Territorial Leasing Sabres Bantam "A" hockey team under coach John Sebastian open the North Central Alberta Bantam Hockey League Thursday night in Sherwood Park with their second game Monday, November 6 at 7 p.m. at the Akinsdale Arena against Ardrossan.

Other teams in the nine-team league are: Fort Saskatchewan, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Drayton Valley and Leduc.

Coach Sebastian hopes the league schedule will be a little easier than the five exhibition games to date as they have lost four and tied one.

Sabres lost two games to Sherwood Park, one to Red Deer and tied and lost to Fort Saskatchewan.

Cross Country Notes

The fall general meeting of the Nordic Ski Club is set for Friday, November 17 in the assembly area at Sir George Simpson school. Things will get underway at 7:30 p.m.

Old memberships will be renewed and new memberships will be accepted at the meeting.

Trail development is progressing with workbees the past two weekends. Another bee is organized for the coming weekend at the Riverlot. Anyone who would like to help clear brush, etc. from the trails can contact John Woitenko at 459-4831.

Nu-West victorious in exhibition game

On October 29 the Nu-West Canadians paid a return visit to Spruce Grove for a second exhibition game. The final score was Nu-West Canadians 10 - Spruce Grove 2.

The game started out fast with both teams showing good fast skating with good rushes both ways. Nu-West proved to have the most scoring power with two unanswered goals in the first period. The first goal came after 14 minutes of play when Findley picked up the puck in his own end and fed the puck across to Hammett on the wing, who passed across to Bosch on the other wing. Bosch played the puck back to Hammett who passed to Findley, by now in the slot. Findley scored with a low wrist shot to the lower corner.

The second goal came shortly after when Viveiros picked up a loose puck on his own blueline and with some fine stickhandling weaved his way through all the way to being alone with the Spruce Grove goalie who didn't have a chance on Viveiros' low shot.

The second period started out even but before long the St. Albert team showed their superiority by scoring five goals against two scored by Spruce Grove. Goal three was scored by Viveiros unassisted while St. Albert were playing two men short. Viveiros surprised Spruce Grove when he picked up a stray pass on the redline and broke through for his second unassisted goal with a shot between the goalies' legs.

Goal four came when Viveiros passed the puck forward to Wheatley then to Lefebvre who took it to the corner and passed it across the goalmouth to Hammett, who wasted no time putting it in the net.

Goal five was scored by Ewens on a passs from Rusnak after a good passing rush up the ice from St. Albert's own end.

At the halfway mark of the second period, Scott Niel who had played an outstanding game in goal for Nu West was relieved by Brent Sedgewick. Unfortunately for Brent he was not given any chance to warm up and Spruce Grove managed to score two goals in quick succession. The first one slid behind Brent after being deflected by one of his own defencemen. It was questionable if the puck crossed the goal line before Sedgewick scooped it up but the referee called a goal.

The second goal for Spruce Grove came on a long shot missing the goal hitting the boards behind. The rebound was accidently deflected into the goal by Brent. By then Sedgewick was warmed up and played an outstanding game with numerous great saves.

A beautiful forward pass play from Hammett to Findley to Bosch who scored with a shot in the upper left corner of the net brought the sixth goal.

Goal number seven was scored by Carnelley after Ewens broke free on the blueline, after a picture pass from Carnelley, with the goalie coming out of the net. Ewens cooly passed the puck back across to Carnelley who put the puck into the by now empty net with a low drive. The second period ended with a score Nu-West Canadians 7 - Spruce Grove 2.

THIRD PERIOD UNEVEN

The third period started out at a good pace but before long the pace slowed down and plays became broken and chippy with several players from both sides spending time in the penalty box.

St. Albert scored three unanswered goals with many missed opportunities due to broken plays.

The scoring started when Viveiros fired a hard slapshot, after a pass from Findley. The shot was deflected by Spruce Grove's goalie out in front where Ewens was ready and he didn't have any problem putting the puck behind the goalie.

Nu-West Canadians ninth goal was scored when Ole Graverson picked up the puck at the point and came through with a slapshot to the corner of the net. The shot was deflected but Hammett put the puck in on the short side for his second goal of the game.

The 10th goal was scored by Kent Lefebvre when he expertly deflected a pass from Viveiros coming across the goalmouth from the corner.

NU-WEST DEFENCE EFFECTIVE

All in all the Nu-West Canadians played a good solid game, with the defence not allowing Spruce Grove many shots on goal.

As usual, some good solid checking by Ron Couture and Bryan Oleson and fast skating and good foresight by Viveiros and Bobby Havens defence line and good point play by Graverson and Fraser Watt kept most of the play in the opposition's end.

Although Stephen Gosse did not pick up any points in this game he played a good solid game and deserved as much credit for the win as everybody else. It was a team effort.

The final statistic showed Viveiros, Hammett and Ewens with two goals each. Findley, Carnelley, Bosch and Lefebvre each picking up one goal. Assists went to Viveiros with two, Lefebvre, Hammett, Graverson, Rusnak, Wheatley, Findley and Ewens each picking up one.

In the penalty division, Spruce Grove picked up six minors and St. Albert seven. No record of shots on goals was kept.

The Canadians will be playing their first game in the North Central Peewee League on Saturday, November 4 at 7:15 p.m. vs. Strathcona in Josephburg Arena. The Canadians first home game will be Thursday, November 9 at 7 p.m. vs. Leduc in the Perron Street Arena.

Saints split weekend games

St. Albert Junior Saints ended a three-game losing streak Saturday night with a 6-3 win over Calgary Chinooks in an Alberta Junior "A" Hockey League game played at Akinsdale Arena in St. Albert.

Saints earlier were defeated 7-4 by the Sherwood Park Crusaders Friday night in St. Albert for their third straight loss after starting the season with six wins in as many games.

League leading Calgary Canucks also split weekend games, losing 8-3 Saturday in Red Deer to the Rustlers before scoring a 6-4 win over Fort Saskatchewan Traders in Calgary on Sunday. Traders were also beaten 8-3 Saturday night in Taber.

St. Albert holds down second place in the standings with 14 points, two more than the Traders who have also played two more games. Sherwood Park Crusaders are in a fourth spot tie with the Chinooks with identical records of five wins and six losses. Red Deer is in sixth spot with 8 points in 12 games and Taber trails with 6 points in 12 starts.

Saturday night the Saints led 5-0 early in the third period before the Chinooks were able to get one by Pierre Lamoureux in the Saints' goal.

Scoring in order for the Saints were John Morrow, Mark Magnan, Robbie Burns Brian Shaw and Troy Murray.

Chinooks scored three unanswered goals, two by the powerplay route early in the third period to make the score a little closer, only to have Shaw get his second of the night at 19.44 to put the game out of reach.

Calgary scorers were Scott Cozens, Frank Harbich and Geoff Wilson.

Referee Nick Slywka had a fairly quiet night calling only 17 minor penalties with St. Albert picking up 12.

Saints out-shot Calgary 34 to 26.

Friday night in St. Albert the visiting Crusaders led 3-1 after the first period and traded single markers in the second 20 minutes with the Saints before outscoring them three goals to two in the final period.

Dave Bourne was the big gun for the Crusaders with four goals. Saints received goals from Troy Murray, Mark Messier, Dean Dachyshyn and John White's first goal of the season.

Saints picked up 17 of 27 penalties handed out by referee Larry Antoniuk.

St. Albert will be the site for the next three Saints games with Red Deer here tonight, Taber Golden Suns on Friday and league leading Calgary Canucks on Saturday. All games are at 8 p.m.

Action along the boards got a little hectic at points in Friday night's game between the St. Albert Junior Saints and the visiting Sherwood Park Crusaders. Saints Dean Dachyshyn welcomes Brad Yakimec to the friendly confines of Akinsdale arena.

Midget B team splits games

St. Albert's Midget B representative team, sponsored by Radio CKST, rebounded from a 4 - 2 loss in Westlock Saturday to hammer Spruce Grove 14 - 2 in a game played Sunday at the Akinsdale Arena.

Although they lost the Saturday encounter on the scoreboard they fared well on the stats sheet outshooting their opponents 36 - 20. Westlock went ahead 2 - 0 at the midway point of the first period with two quick goals. St. Albert fought back to tie the game midway through the middle frame but a late Westlock goal gave Westlock all they needed for the win. Westlock added an insurance marker in the third period and hung on to defeat a disappointed but undiscouraged St. Albert team.

They came back with a vengeance Sunday and ran roughshod over the hapless Spruce Grove crew. St. Albert opened the scoring barrage at the 18 second mark of the first period and had pumped in seven by the buzzer.

Spruce Grove managed one in each of the last two periods while St. Albert's output dropped to four in the second and three in the third. Shots on goal were 61 to 27 in St. Albert's favour.

Dean McKinney picked a hat trick in the Spruce Grove game as did Doug McCarthy. McKinney also scored in the Westlock game with Jason Swist. Martin Teuber was top point man Sunday with a goal and three assists. Don Trembath and Dave MacDougall each scored twice in the Spruce Grove game. Singles went to James Sander, Murray Pennington, and Dave Bell.

St. Albert was assessed 11 of 25 penalties including a game misconduct.

Oilers host Jets Friday

Edmonton Oilers will play host to the Winnipeg Jets Friday night at the Coliseum and Coach Glen Sather is hoping the team will get a little scoring punch together as it has been badly missing in games played to date.

Oilers are the lowest scoring team in the seven team W.H.A. having scored only 21 goals in seven games. On the other hand, goaltenders Dave Dryden and Ed Walsh have allowed the fewest goals of any team with 23 against.

Bill Goldsworthy and Claire Alexander led the Oilers in goals with three each while Ron Chipperfield and Steve Carlson led in points with seven apiece.

Sunday night at the Coliseum the visiting Quebec Nordiques broke out of a scoring slump and hammered the Oilers 6-2 with Real Cloutier having a hand in five of the goals, including three assists.

Carlson and Joe Micheletti were the only Oilers to beat Richard Brodeur in the Nordiques as he stopped 34 shots.

Dave Dryden allowed five Quebec goals before being replaced by Walsh early in the third period.

Oilers will leave Sunday morning on a five-game road trip during which the team will stop in Quebec (2) New England, Cincinnati and Birmingham.

Their next home game will be November 17 against the Indianapolis Racers if they are still in the league by that time.

Carma Bantams win and tie single game

Carma's St. Albert bantam rep team travelled to Red Deer Sunday and came away with a 3-1 win, or was it a 5-5 tie? After three periods of play, the score was 3-1 for St. Albert. However, Red Deer had scheduled two and a half hours of ice so the teams played a fourth period which ended in a 5-5 tie.

The first period was a lacklustre affair with neither team getting on the scoreboard. St. Albert picked up the tempo in the second and their hustle was rewarded with a nice goal by Erin Oor assisted by John Holden and Mike Wells.

Period three saw John Findlay score, assisted by Kevin Laliberte and Don Neil: Minutes later, with two St. Albert players in the penalty box, Red Deer got in front of St. Albert's net and popped in a goal. With just a minute left in the period, John Lenz beat Red Deer's defence and scored a beautiful goal, unassisted.

St. Albert's defence took a rest in period four while Red Deer put the puck in the net four times. Wells connected for St. Albert assisted by Tony Rouault and Rod Sopiwnyk. Late in the period, Lenz came through again, this time assisted by Wells to tie the score at five goals.

League play gets underway November 11 and 12 with a home and away series against Westlock.

HAIDAS WIN 4-1

Last Tuesday Carma's Albert Bantams suffered their first exhibition defeat this season, 4-1, against the Haidas in Spruce Grove. The host club, because of its sheer size, seemed to dominate the St. Albert Club physically, although the game was quite cleanly played.

A rash of minor penalties to Spruce Grove in the first period provided St. Albert with many good offensive chances but, though they outshot the Haidas, they came away down 1-0. In the second period, Spruce Grove completely dominated play, repeatedly stifling Carma's attack. With two-on-one breaks, and a powerplay, they were able to score three times, while St. Albert managed only four shots.

Although the play seemed to be more even in the third frame, due to sloppiness shown by both clubs, St. Albert was able to take only three shots. However, one of them, by Brian Chai on a pass from John Holden, resulted in a pretty goal, as Chai outraced a defender to break in on the Haida goal. Carma's goalie Mike Willems withstood the Spruce Grove attack this period to preserve the final score of 4-1.

Bantam Football

K of C Colts advance in playoffs with easy win

St. Albert Knights of Columbus Colts met Leduc-Wetaskiwin Sunday at Kinsmen Field to determine which team would advance to the semi-finals in Edmonton and District Bantam Football League action. When the dust settled the Colts had completely dominated the South Division club, shutting them out 48 - 0, and rushing for an unbelievable 605 yards.

Tracey Fizzel carried the ball 15 times for 277 yards on the day while teammate Mark Akins ran 177 yards on seven carries. Fizzel had four touchdowns and Akins picked up two. Brad Hiley scored the final touchdown of the day late in the fourth quarter. O'Neil was good on five of seven extra point attempts.

Colts opened the game with a seven play drive on their first possession. They marched the ball from their own 43 yard line using straight forward basic plays. Fizzel went over for the major from five yards out.

Akins kicked a 45 yard single late in the quarter to give the Colts an 8-0 lead.

Colts were called for a few unnecessary penalties in the second quarter that negated big gains and prevented the score from mounting much higher. Fizzel ran 70 yards for a touchdown a few minutes into the quarter and the club continued to move the ball well although Fizzel's TD was the only score of the quarter. Leduc-Wetaskiwin also moved the ball well but were confined to their half of the field as the Cols defense continued stingy play in the Colts end.

The half ended with a 35 yard pass to Andy Wenger in the end zone that just eluded his grasp. Colts were leading 15 - 0.

In the second half the team began to really open up. They began by gambling on third down on their own 40 yard line and weren't successful. Leduc-Wetaskiwin passed to the 28 yard line but Steve Ganton intercepted one play later on the Colts 13 and ran it back to the 25. Quarterback Mark Akins scrambled for 15 yards on a broken play and then Fizzel went up the middle for 70 yards and St. Albert's third TD. Leduc-Wetaskiwin moved the ball very well this quarter with the Colts giving them the short passes. St. Albert moved in near the 15 minute mark and Fizzel took the ball across from five yards for his fourth major of the day.

Colts opened the final 15 minutes by fumbling to L-W but once again the defense came through intercepting on the Colt's 43. Mike Tessier took a turn at calling the signals and regular QB Mark Akins moved to the fullback position. Akins immediately ran the ball 67 yards on a draw for the first of his two majors.

A couple of plays later Steve Ganton pulled down his second interception of the day to set up another touchdown by Akins. Akins ran around the end for 34 yards and then five yards over the middle for the score.

Late in the game defense halfback David Hoffart was lost for the season when he cracked a collar bone trying for an interception. With two minutes to go in the game Brad Hiley ran 22 yards off tackle on a beautifully executed fake up the middle. No one touched the Colt back as he scooted through the hole to give St. Albert a 47-0 lead. O'Neil ended the scoring with his fifth convert of the day.

Colts now take on Boston Pizza next Sunday in the quarter-finals. Boston Pizza, of the South Division, took out Keg 'N Cleaver 22-7. Coach Roger Graff says Boston Pizza is a passing team and likes to run 'fancy stuff.' They scored 250 points this season while allowing only 20 but it is generally conceded that the South Division is much weaker than the North.

Coach Graff also does not feel that the field will be a contributing factor should it snow. It has been recently sodded, is in good condition, and shouldn't mud up. He foresaw the possibility of a high-scoring contest.

From the Bench ... Mike Carwell played his best game of the season at outside linebacker and middle linebacker ... Garth Borle (defensive tackle) was in the L-W backfield all game making things tough for the opposing QB ... Safety Steve Ganton played a strong game making numerous tackles and coming up with two interceptions ... Garret Doll ran the ball from the fullback slot five times for 71 yards, Hiley picked up 33 yards on four carries and Kelly Murray carried eight times for 42 yards ... Game time Sunday is 10:45.

SWIMMERS PACK NEW POOL

Scheduled to open at 7 p.m. last Wednesday the Fountain Park Pool had about 50 people at the door by 6 o'clock. Within one hour of opening 355 swimmers were enjoying the new indoor pool, causing some people to be turned back.

Organic farming on the Prairies

Organic farming may be popular among some gardeners but it is not feasible for large-scale farming on the Canadian Prairies.

At least this is the opinion of Jan Looman, a range ecologist at Agriculture Canada's Swift Current, Sask., Research Station. Dr. Looman says that cattle cannot produce the amount of manure needed to economically maintain high productivity in the soil for crops.

The scientist also says that the need for herbicides can be reduced by good farming practices but never eliminated and that insecticides will be needed to prevent crop damage unless scientists can produce large populations of insect predators.

"Collectively We Win Independent We Lose"

Organizers racing ahead with St. Albert Fastball League

Gene Lytwyn, president of the Greater St. Albert Men's Fastball Association is no longer alone.

For over two years now Gene has been advocating a men's fastball league for St. Albert and now, in less than a month he has recruited some help - and things are starting to happen.

GENE LYTWYN

Dick Bird, pitching stalwart for the St. Albert A's for longer than anyone cares to remember has accepted the vice presidency of the Association. Dick's extensive experience both as a player and organizer in the Sturgeon Valley League will serve him well as the man responsible for the task of scheduling league play. As soon as the league can determine its final complement of teams, Dick will begin to determine the schedule and define the rules of play.

Garry Mix, the secretary treasurer has now secured registration of the Association under the Provincial Government's Societies Act and is actively pursuing the Association's affiliation with the Alberta Amateur Softball Association. But that's not all! As chairman of the first-ever St. Albert Invitational Fastball Tournament to be held in conjunction with the Rainmaker Rodeo next June, Garry is planning a Big One!

Lytwyn looked to Roger Lemieux to lend his talents to the development of the Meadowview Diamonds as a top-notch fastball facility. And things you wouldn't expect to see happen till the spring are happening now. Backstops are being moved, dug-outs are being stored and a comprehensive and detailed plan for development of the ball diamonds is being submitted to the city's Community Services department.

Roger, general manager of the LBH Builders, (formerly of the Sturgeon Valley League) is known about town as a man who gets the job done.

And Lytwyn himself has not let his efforts wane one bit. Between co-ordinating the efforts of the above three and searching for the ways and means to make it all happen he is looking for competitive men's fastball teams that are interested in joining the association.

So, fastball is the game and you now know some of the names. They are the ones who are going to make it all happen!

For further information contact Gene Lytwyn at 459-7074.

Fruit and vegetable storage program

Fruit and vegetable production is a tough, competitive business in Canada.

To give growers more protection from fluctuating prices and to help improve marketing opportunities, Agriculture Canada administers a storage construction assistance program.

To date, $4.6 million has been contributed under the program for 35 storage projects. Producer groups can receive one-third of the cost of new construction or renovation of eligible storage facilities up to $500,000 per project.

Mortgage eligibility criteria amended

A significant amendment has been made in the eligibility criteria for Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation's residental land development program, it was announced recently by Tom Chambers, Minister of Housing and Public Works. Small developers who desire to develop subdivisions which will facilitate the production of modest housing for lower income Albertans will now be eligible to borrow under the program which provides financing for land purchase, servicing and other subdivision costs.

Previously, only bona fide builders who were members of the new home certification program of Alberta were eligible borrowers.

Lots in subdivisions produced by the small developer will be under the same restrictions as those produced by a builder, in that at least one-half of the housing units built in the subdivision will have to meet and be financed under the guidelines of Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation's starter home ownership and direct lending program, and any units built on a speculative basis under these programs will have to bear the new home certification program of Alberta warranty. The small developer may, therefore, have to sell at least half of the lots produced to small builders who are members of the new home certification program and who are willing to build the lower priced homes as stipulated by Alberta Home Mortgage Corporation. The lots could only be sold at A.H.M.C. controlled prices.

To date the corporation has financed the development of 230 lots and has applications under consideration for the development of another 447 lots. Mr. Chambers advised that expanding the program to small developers would add significantly to the inventory of serviced lots needed to result in the production of affordable housing. Representatives from many small builders partially prompted the expansion of the availability of program funding.

Fridge shoppers can compare energy use

After September 30, 1978, anyone wanting to purchase a new refrigerator should look for this label, and read it carefully. Refrigerators manufactured after September 30, are required by law to state their energy consumption. These appliances should be in the stores in a matter of weeks.

What does this all mean? The Federal Government's new energy conservation program is called "Energuide." It will mean that consumers will be able to compare different models and brands of appliances on the amount of energy each uses. A wise consumer will also be energy-wise.

All major appliances are to carry these labels eventually. Refrigerators are the first to be tested and labelled. The Energuide label will state the Kilowatt-hours per month (kWh) of energy used, as tested in accordance with the Canadian Standards Association standard.

With costs of energy increasing all the time consumers will be wise to use these labels as a criteria for buying. Also, it is hoped that manufacturers will improve energy consumption of their products in order to compete effectively in the marketplace.

For the consumer

If you want to freeze leftover food, find a new recipe with cheddar cheese, or start planning a garden for spring, you can get some help from the Information Services of Agriculture Canada.

Maurice Tessier, chief of the department's public information services, says Agriculture Canada distributes many pamphlets and booklets on topics ranging from canning fruits to suggesting what ornamental plants will best suit your garden.

Kickbacks

Allegations have been levelled at Central Mortgage and Housing of kickbacks with regard to a loan of over $7 million given by CMHC to a low rental housing project, York Place, in Hamilton, Ontario. The allegations are being investigated by the RCMP and news reports indicated evidence has been gathered against six persons, including a prominent politician, and that charges are possible within the week.
